

Vegan Vegetarianism in ART

Vegan Vegetarianism in ART
(as well as Meat in Art)

by Mark Mathew Braunstein

www.MarkBraunstein.Org/veg-in-art

The research for and videography of this slideshow was supported by a 2019 grant from the Culture & Animals Foundation

www.CultureAndAnimals.Org

Supported by:

Culture & Animals
FOUNDATION

This slideshow is optimized for desktop monitors with resolutions of 1920 x 1080 pixels.
Best to view as a slideshow, which Adobe Acrobat Reader calls Full Screen Mode.
In Adobe Reader (DC version 2019), the menu command is:

VIEW menu ⇒ Full Screen Mode (Command/Control + L)

to navigate FORWARD, Left-Click or Right Arrow key

to navigate in REVERSE, Right-Click or Left Arrow key

to EXIT slideshow, ESC (escape) key

7 559.

R. Flamin. sculp.

Leuciscus seu Dardus. La Vandoise ou Dard. Dace. cum priuil. Regis.

東の
おのれ
祝 か
川
舟 の 舟
か
船 の
舟
か
船 の
舟 か

廣重
印

金

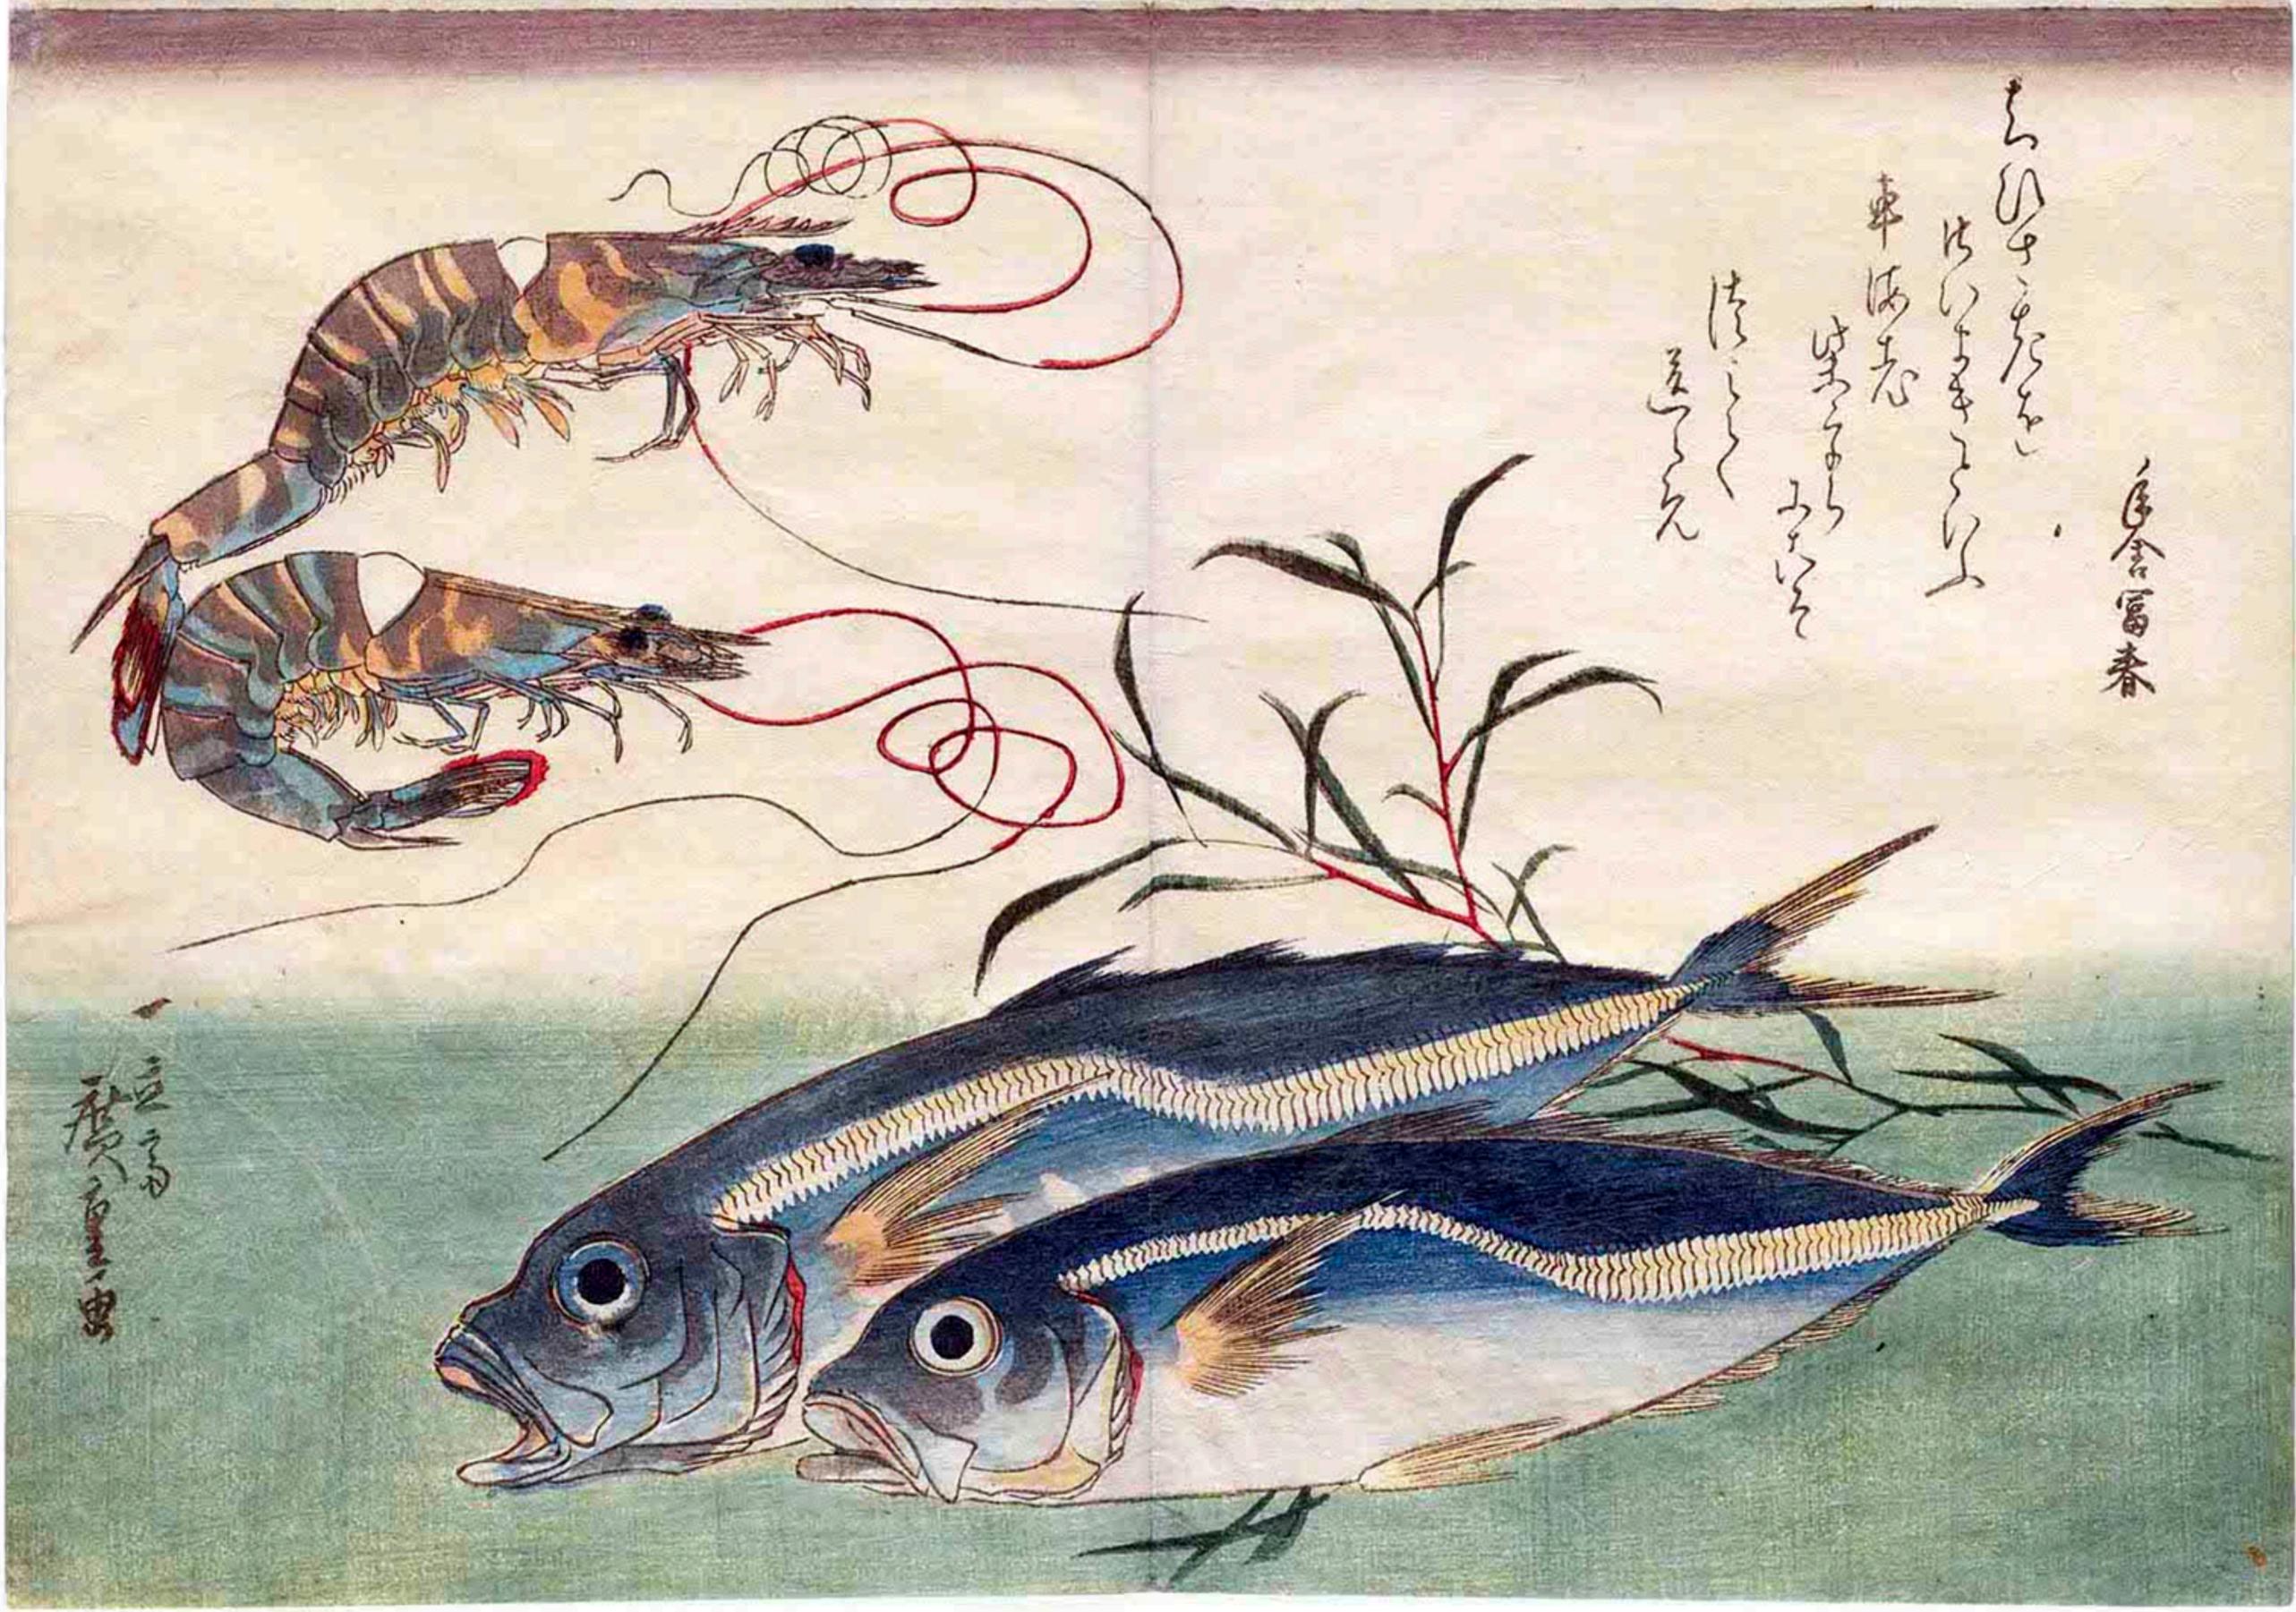

B. Flamin. Sc.

IX

Scomber. Le Maquereau.

Cum priuileg. Regis.

子倉富春

ふし子倉富春

はし子倉富春

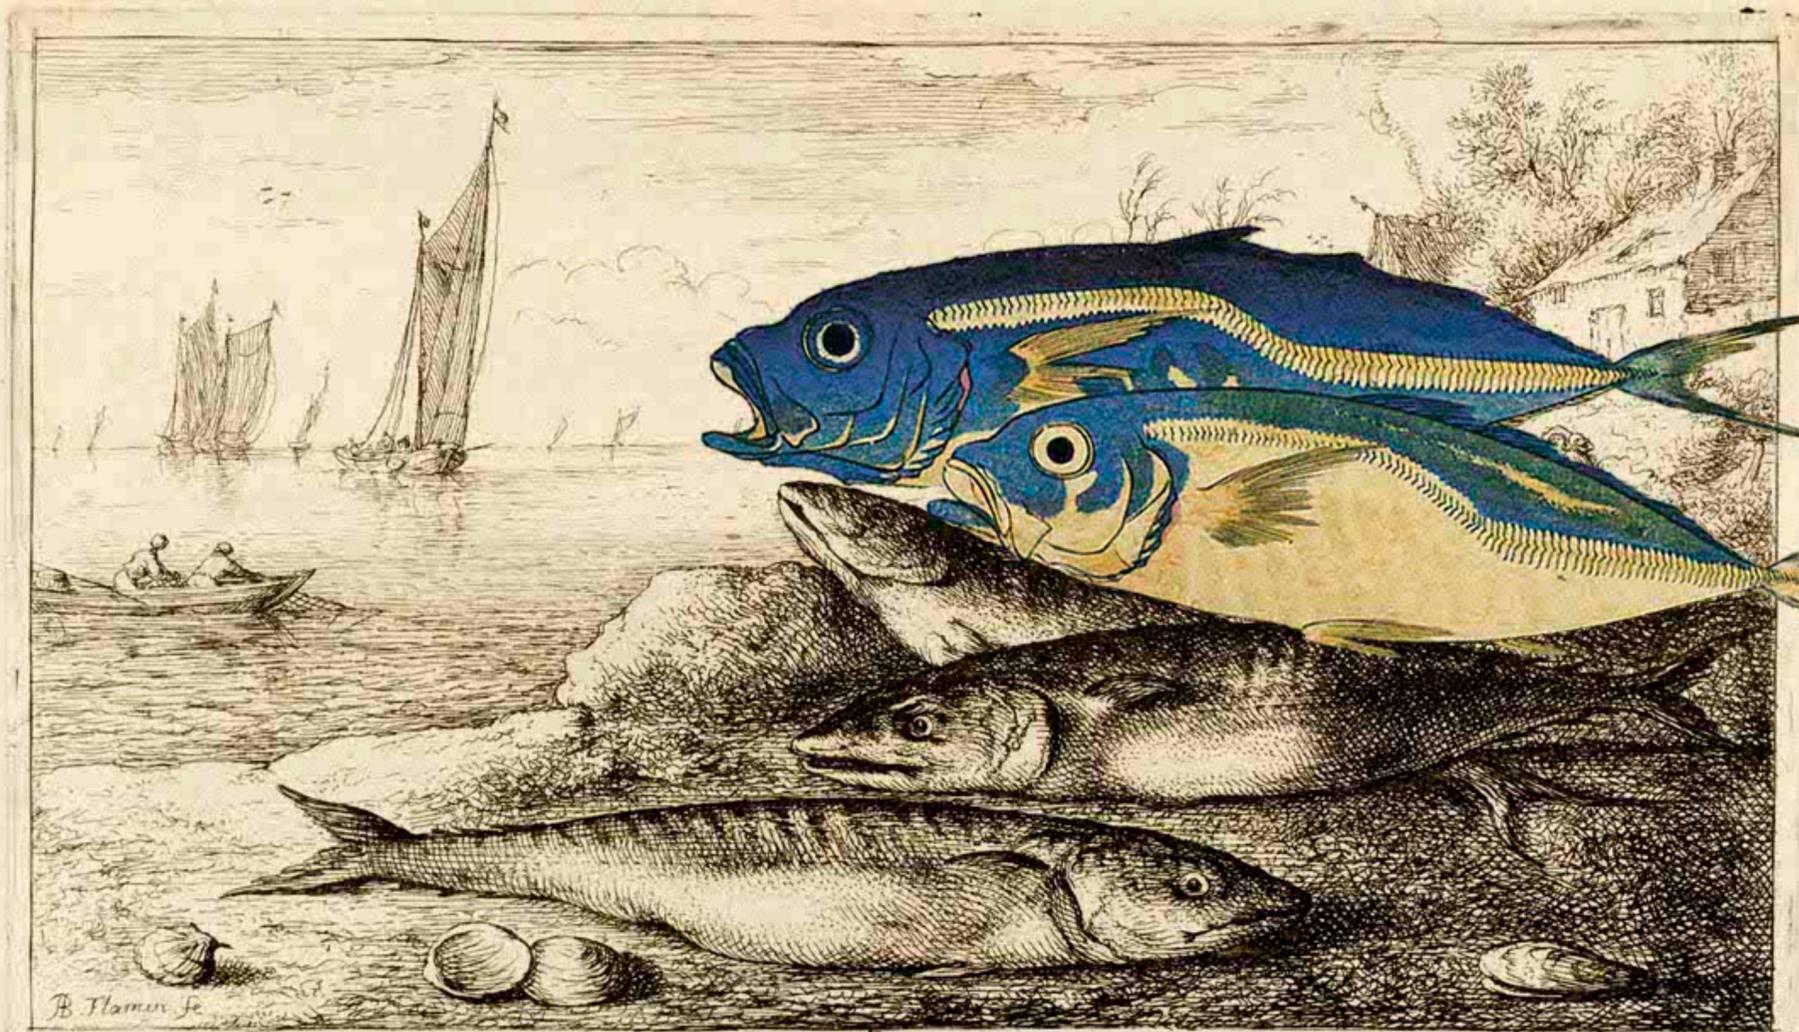

車海老

はし子倉富春

はし子倉富春

はし子倉富春

魚子倉富春
秋

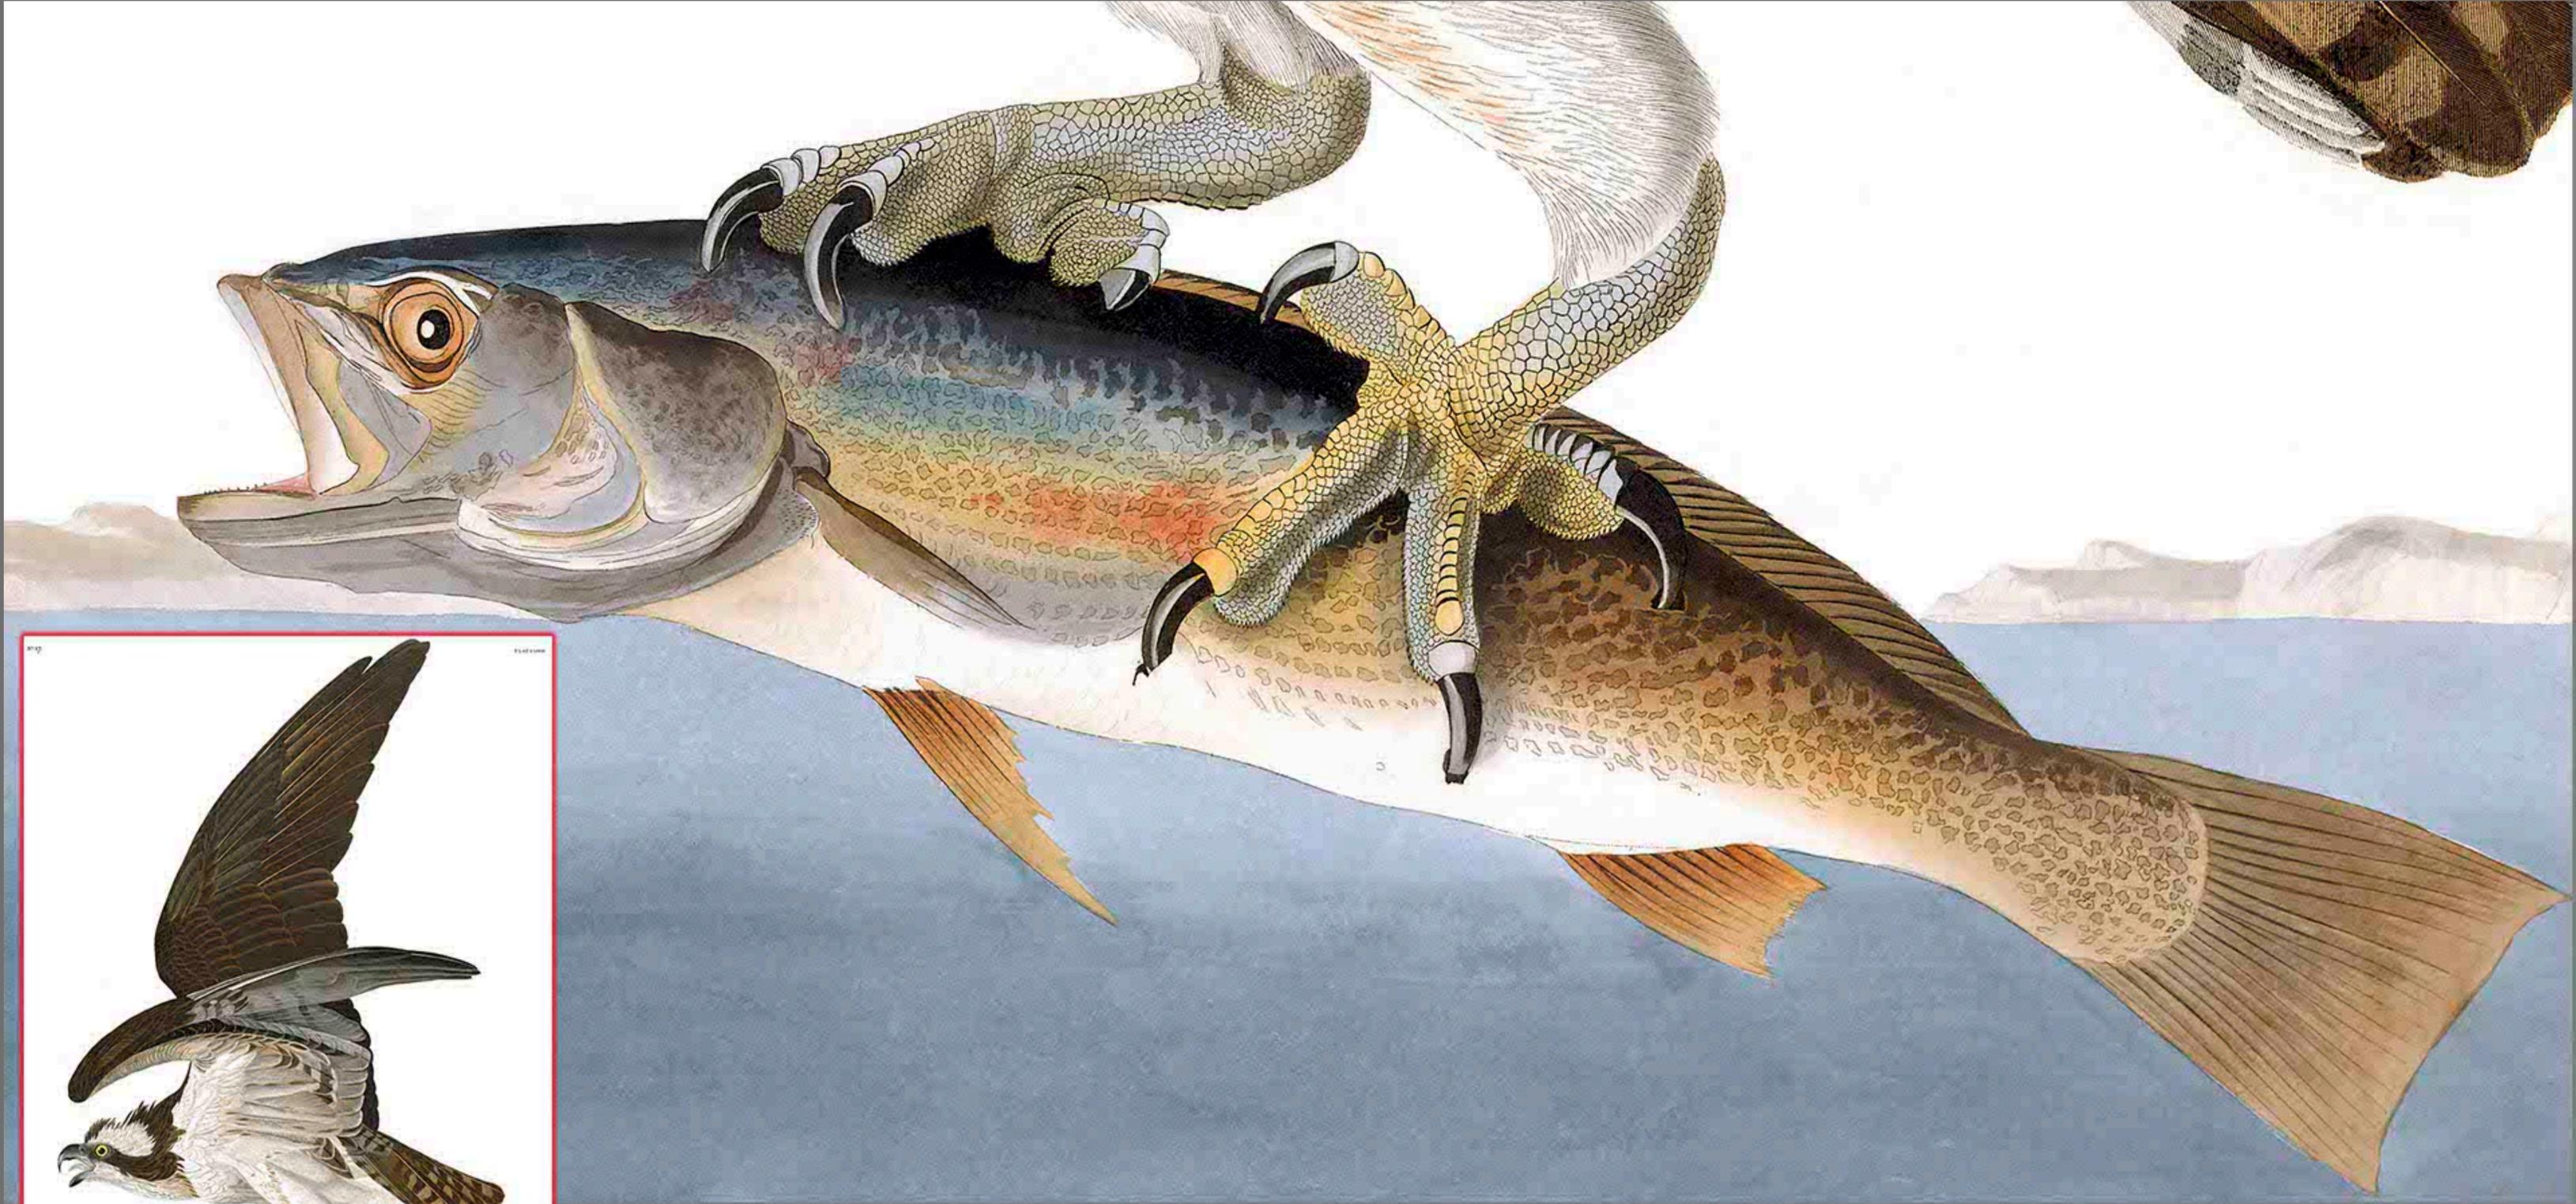

IX

Scomber. Le Maquereau.

Cum priuileg. Regis.

Fish Eater Osprey from Audubon's Ill. 1827

Ghet achtel so ende
te coope teghen matter
roeyt elck syn geet off teemmale. 154

to the upper right also advertises a farm for sale, so the of the market economy is reflected in the imagery.

The still life so dominates the picture that it seems independent of the religious subject in the background. But in the distance to the left we see the Virgin and Child on the Flight into Egypt giving bread to the poor, who are ignored by the workmen lined up for church. To the right is a tavern scene where the excesses of the senses are for sale. (The many oyster shells refer to its rumored qualities as an aphrodisiac.) The eye meanings over the objects on display: some of them items of gluttony, some, like the pretzels, eaten during Lent. Some of the products may be read as Christian symbols, such as the two pairs of crossed fish signifying the Crucifixion. The two background scenes suggest different choices a viewer could make: a life of dissipation or a life of almsgiving. The foreground with its emphasis on items for sale may implicate Antwerp's principal economic activity in these choices.

PETER BRUEGEL THE ELDER Aertsen's younger contemporary and fellow Antwerp resident, Pieter Bruegel the Elder (1525/30–1569) used this same device of "inverted"

ART IN TIME

- 1509—Erasmus publishes In Praise of Folly
- 1568–1648—Dutch Wars of Independence from Spain
- 1565—Pieter Bruegel the Elder's The Return of the Hunters
- 1579—Establishment of Dutch Republic perspective—putting the apparent subject of the picture in the background of many of his images. He explored landscape, peasant life, and moral allegory in his paintings. Although his career was spent in Antwerp and Brussels, he may have been born near 's Hertogenbosch, the home of Hieronymus Bosch.

 Certainly Bosch's paintings impressed him deeply, and his work is similarly ambiguous. Bruegel's contemporaries admired his wit and his ability to mimic nature, though solid personal information about Bruegel is scarce.

1836 Pieter Aertsen. The Meat Stall. 1551. Oil on panel, 48 $\frac{1}{2}$  × 59" (123.5 × 150 cm). University Art Collections, Uppsala University, Sweden

CHAPTER 18 RENAISSANCE AND REFORMATION IN SIXTEENTH-CENTURY NORTHERN EUROPE 653

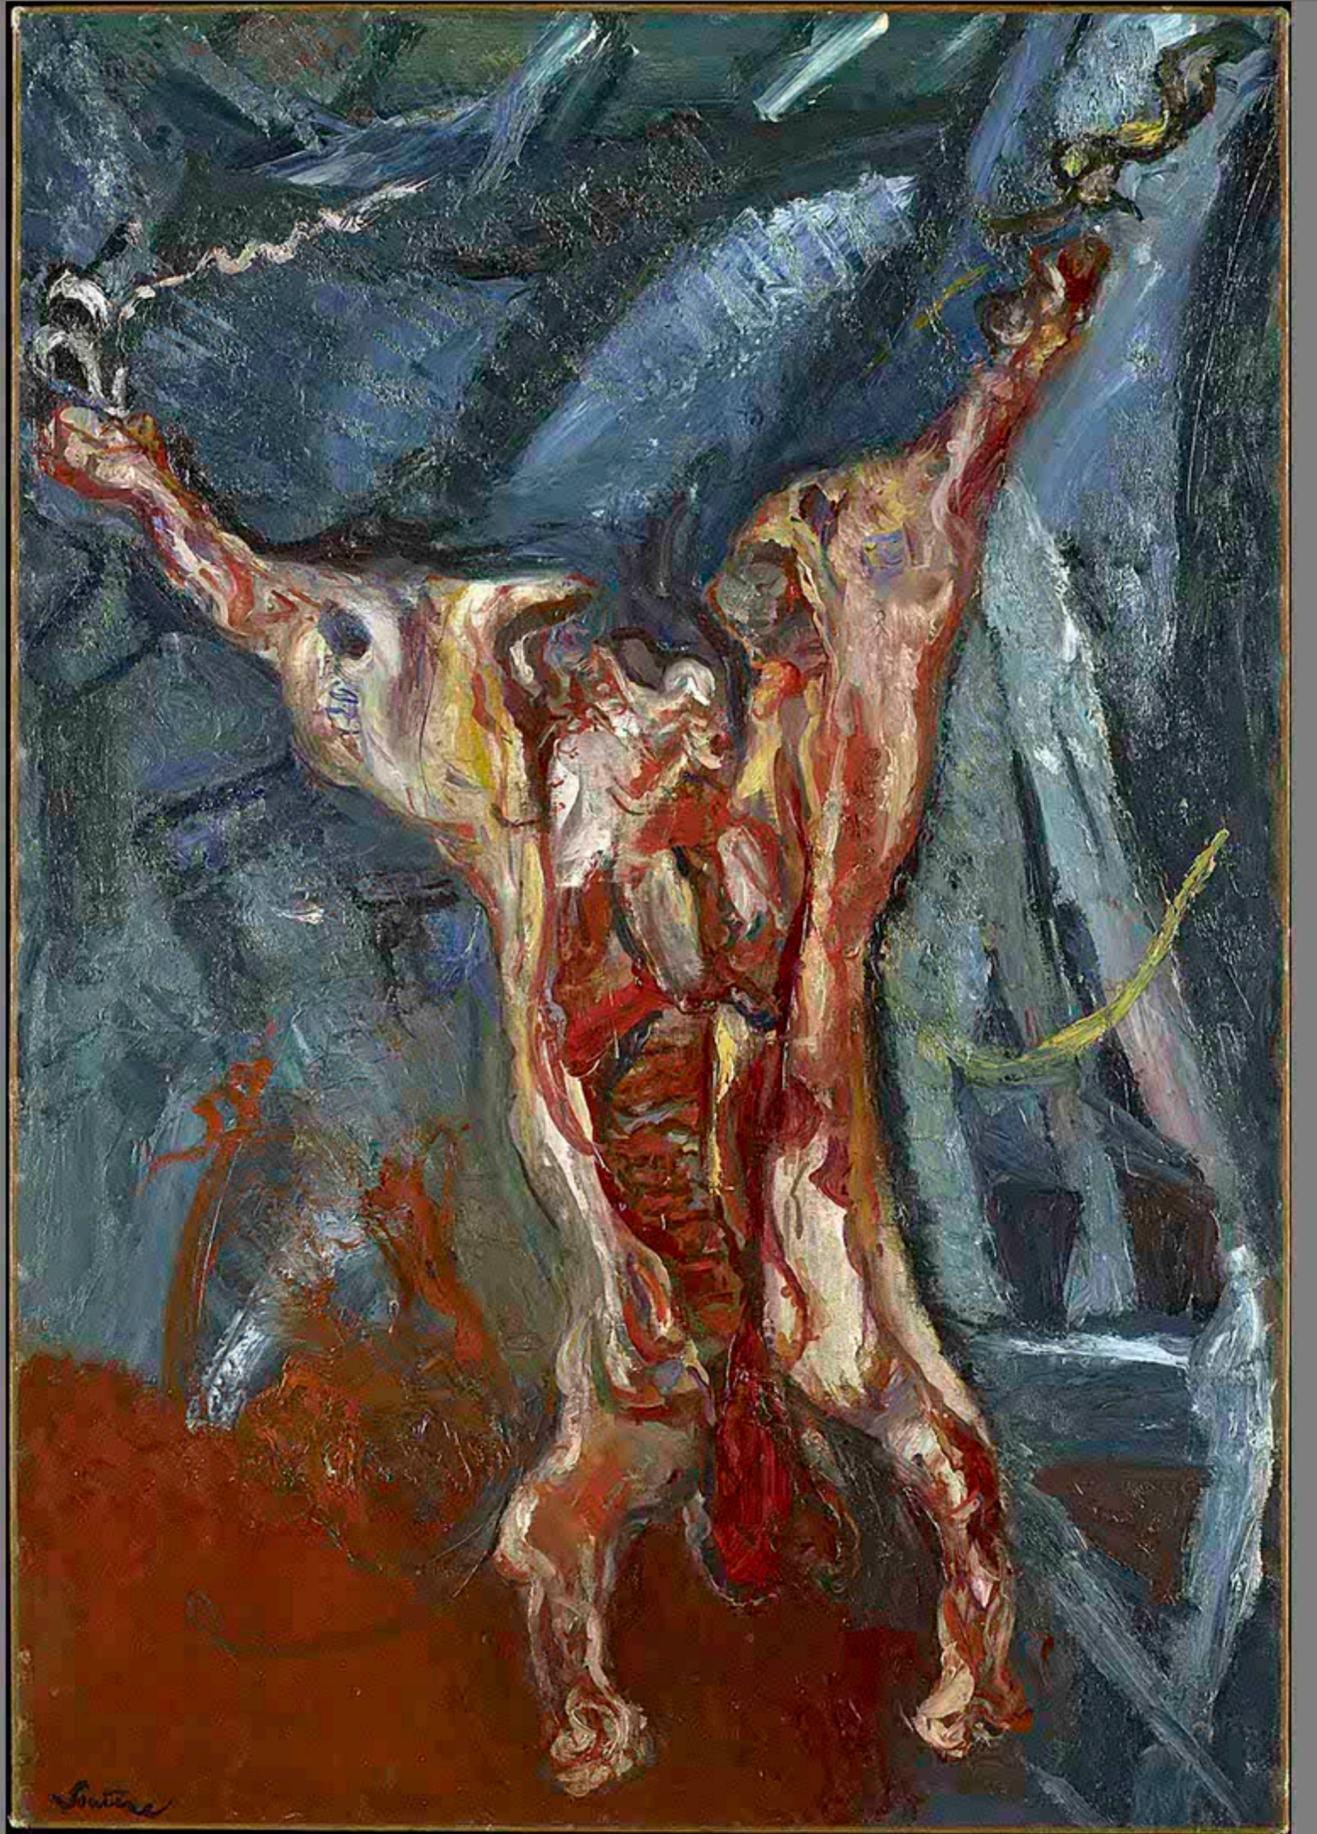

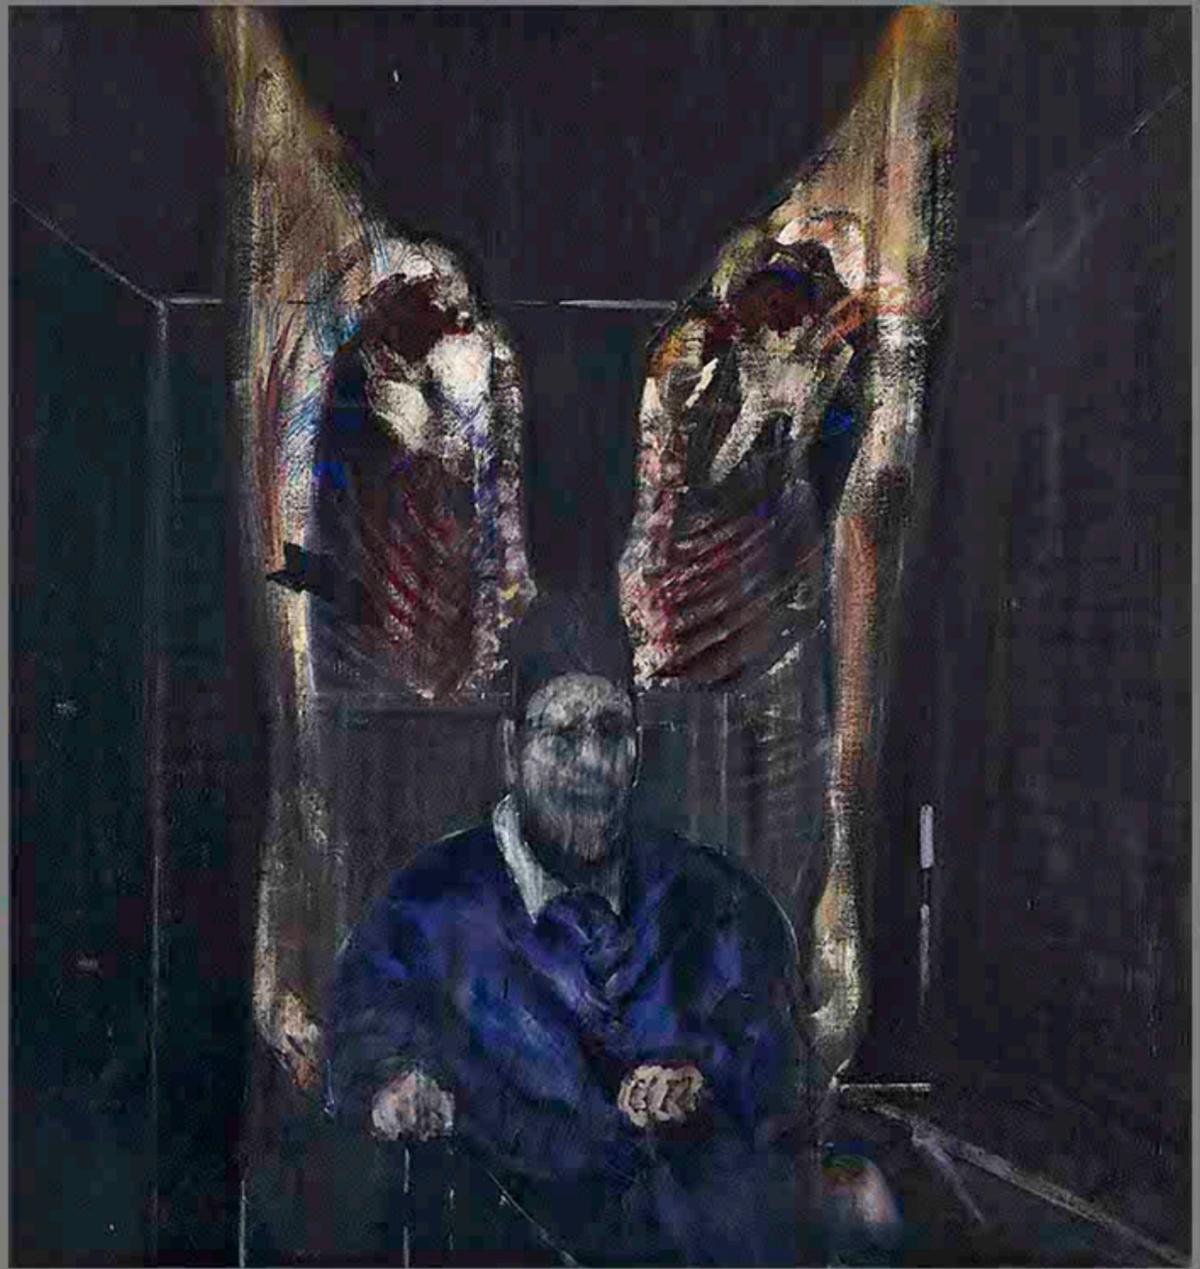

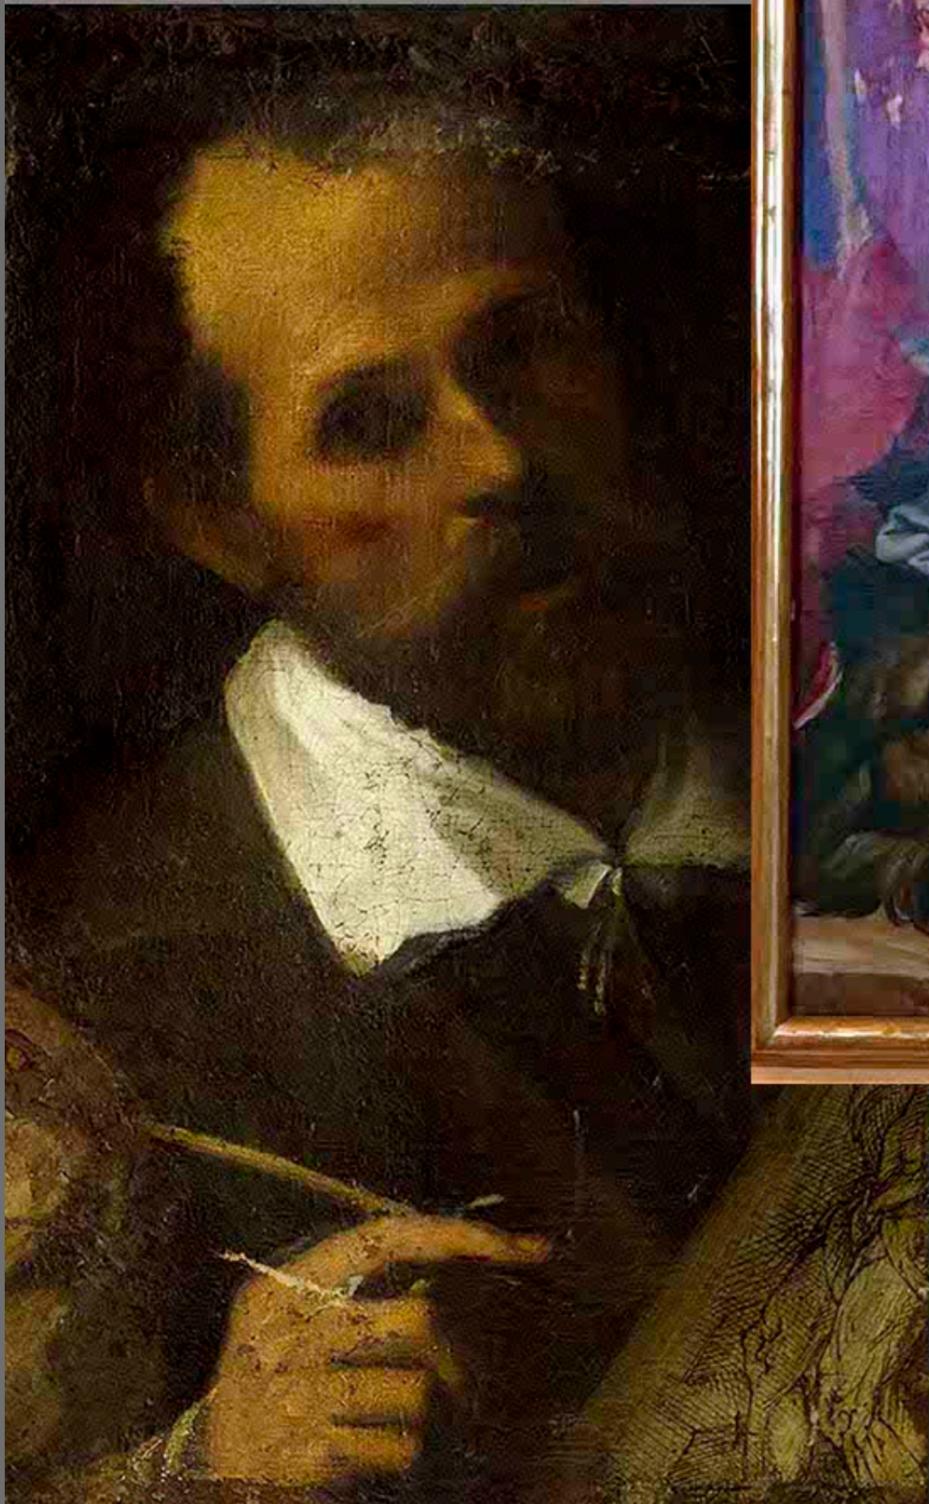

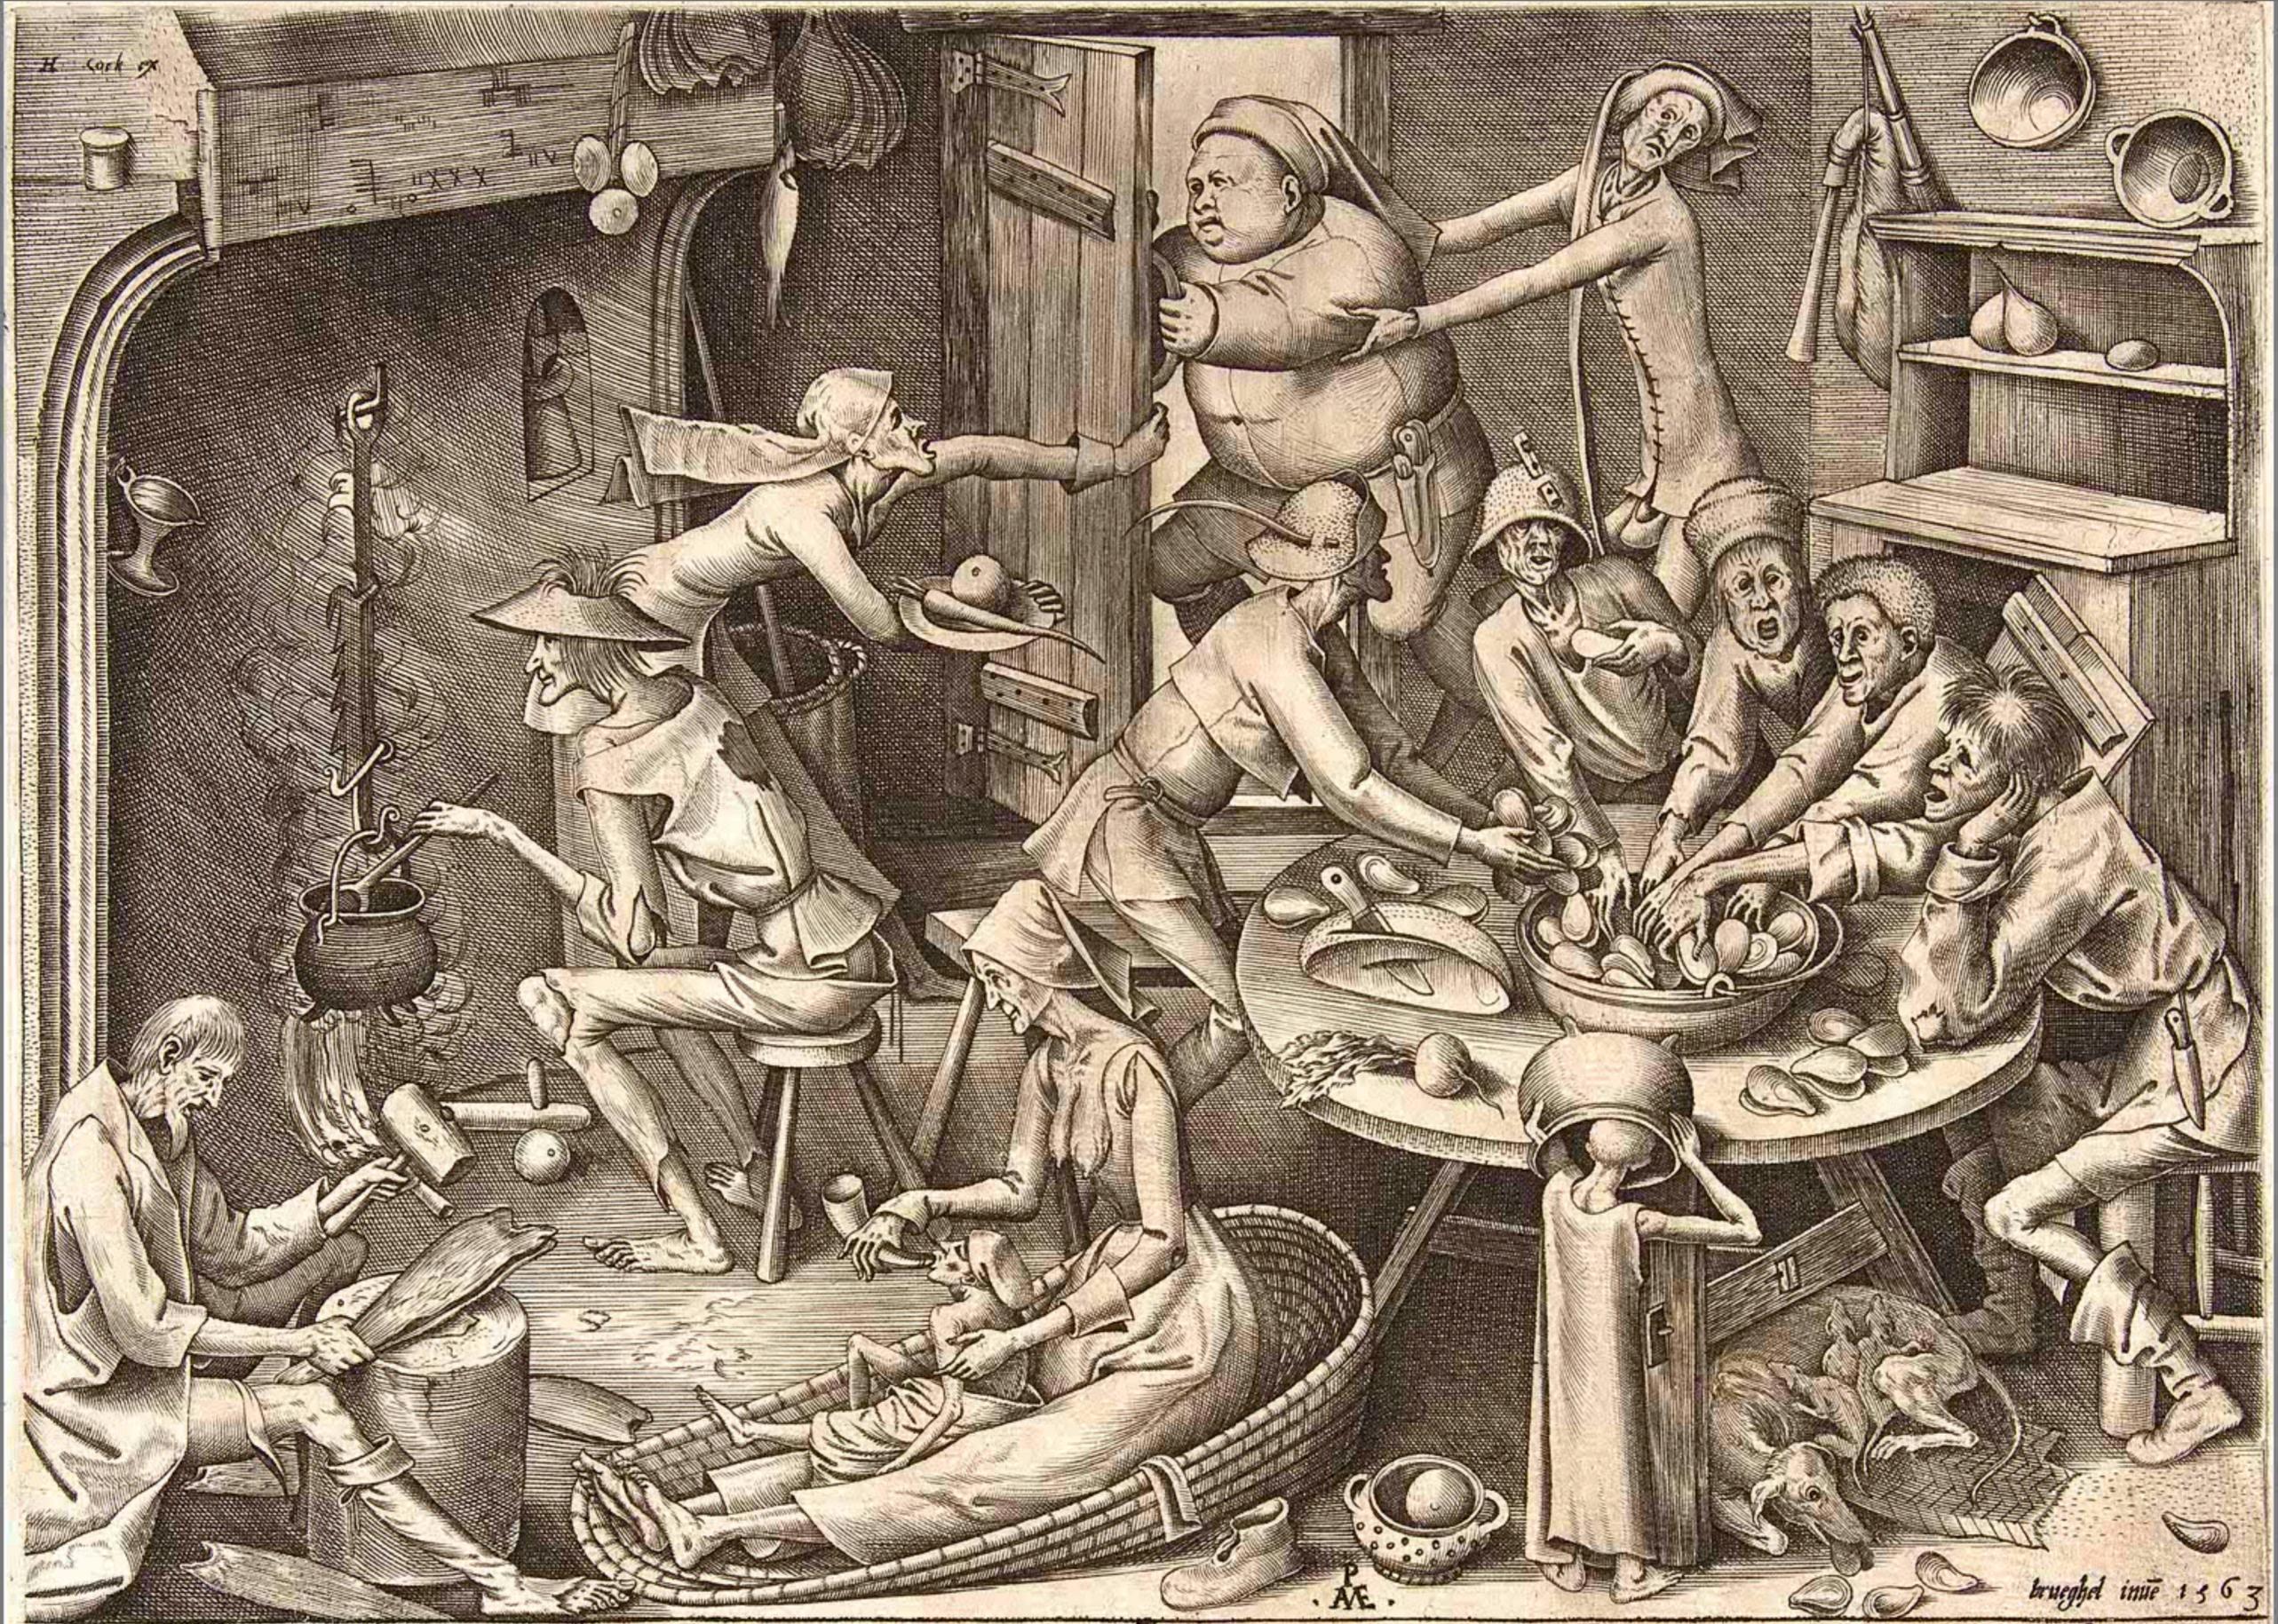

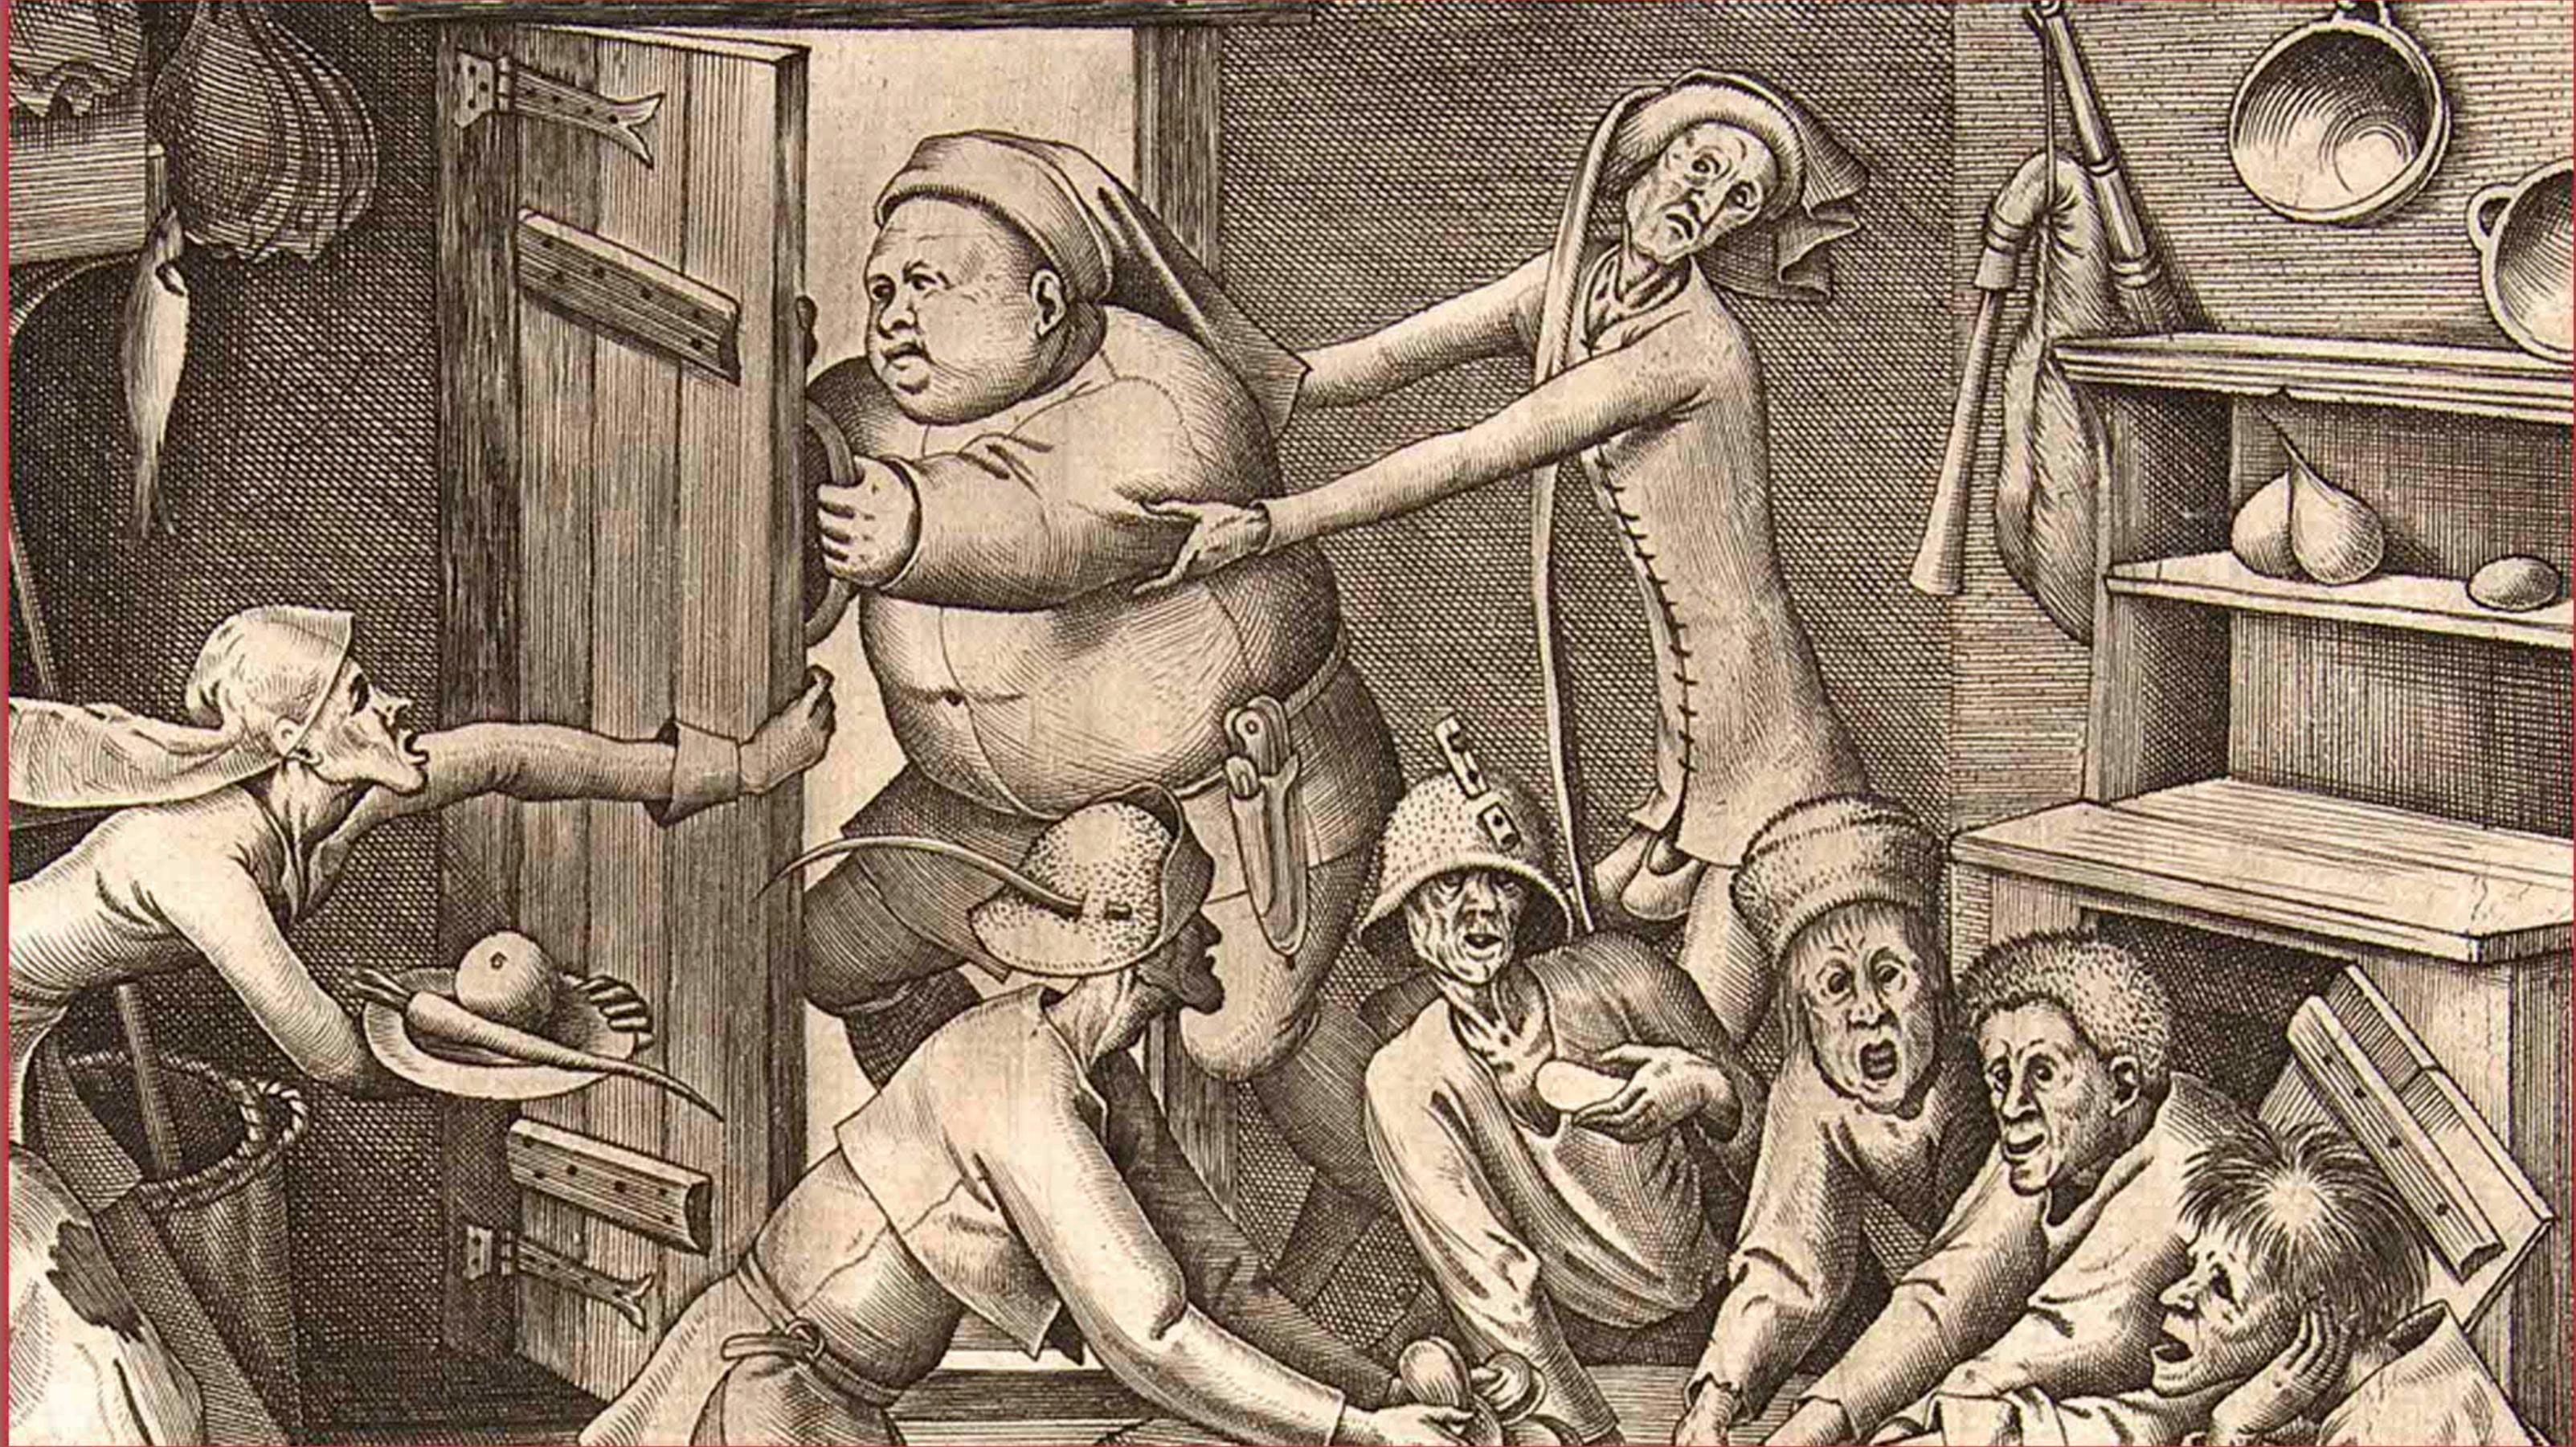

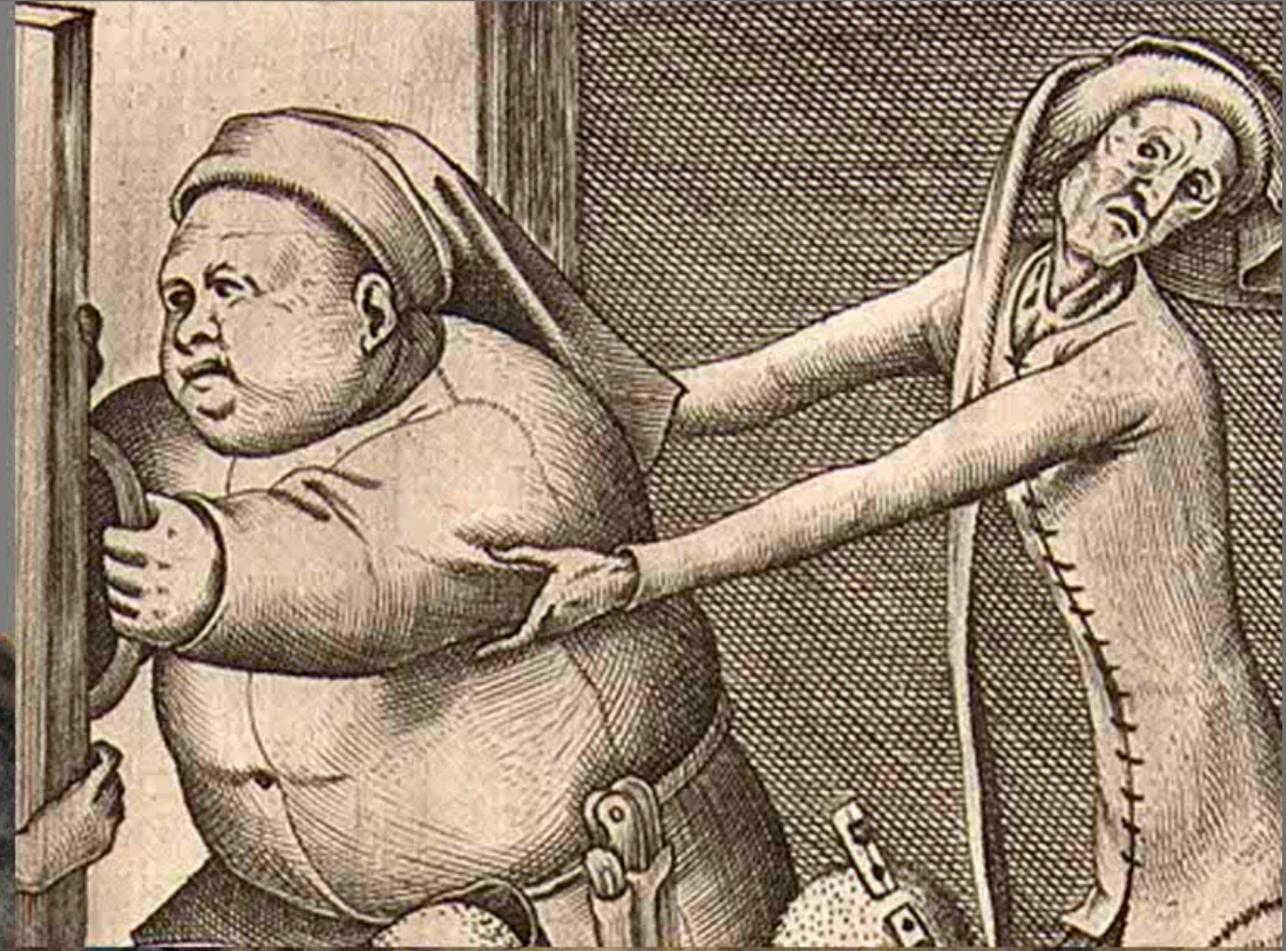

H. cork 97

P. A.E.

brueghel inue 1563

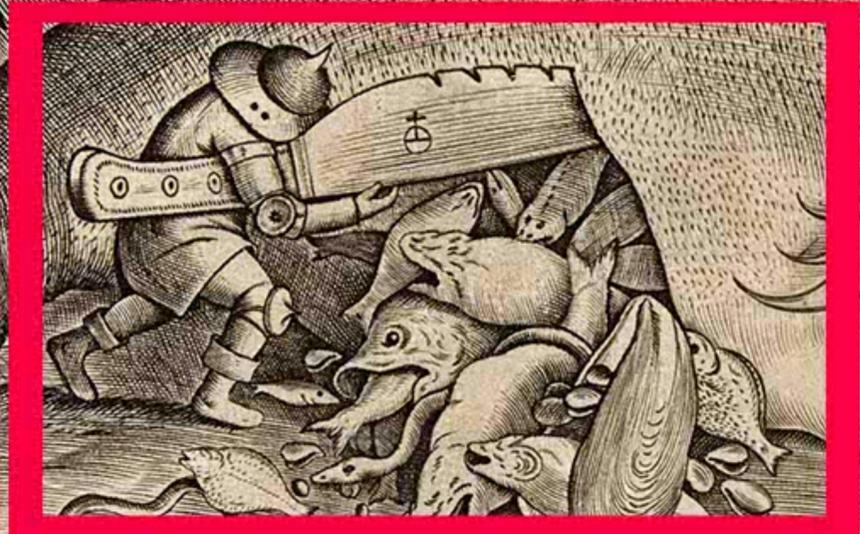

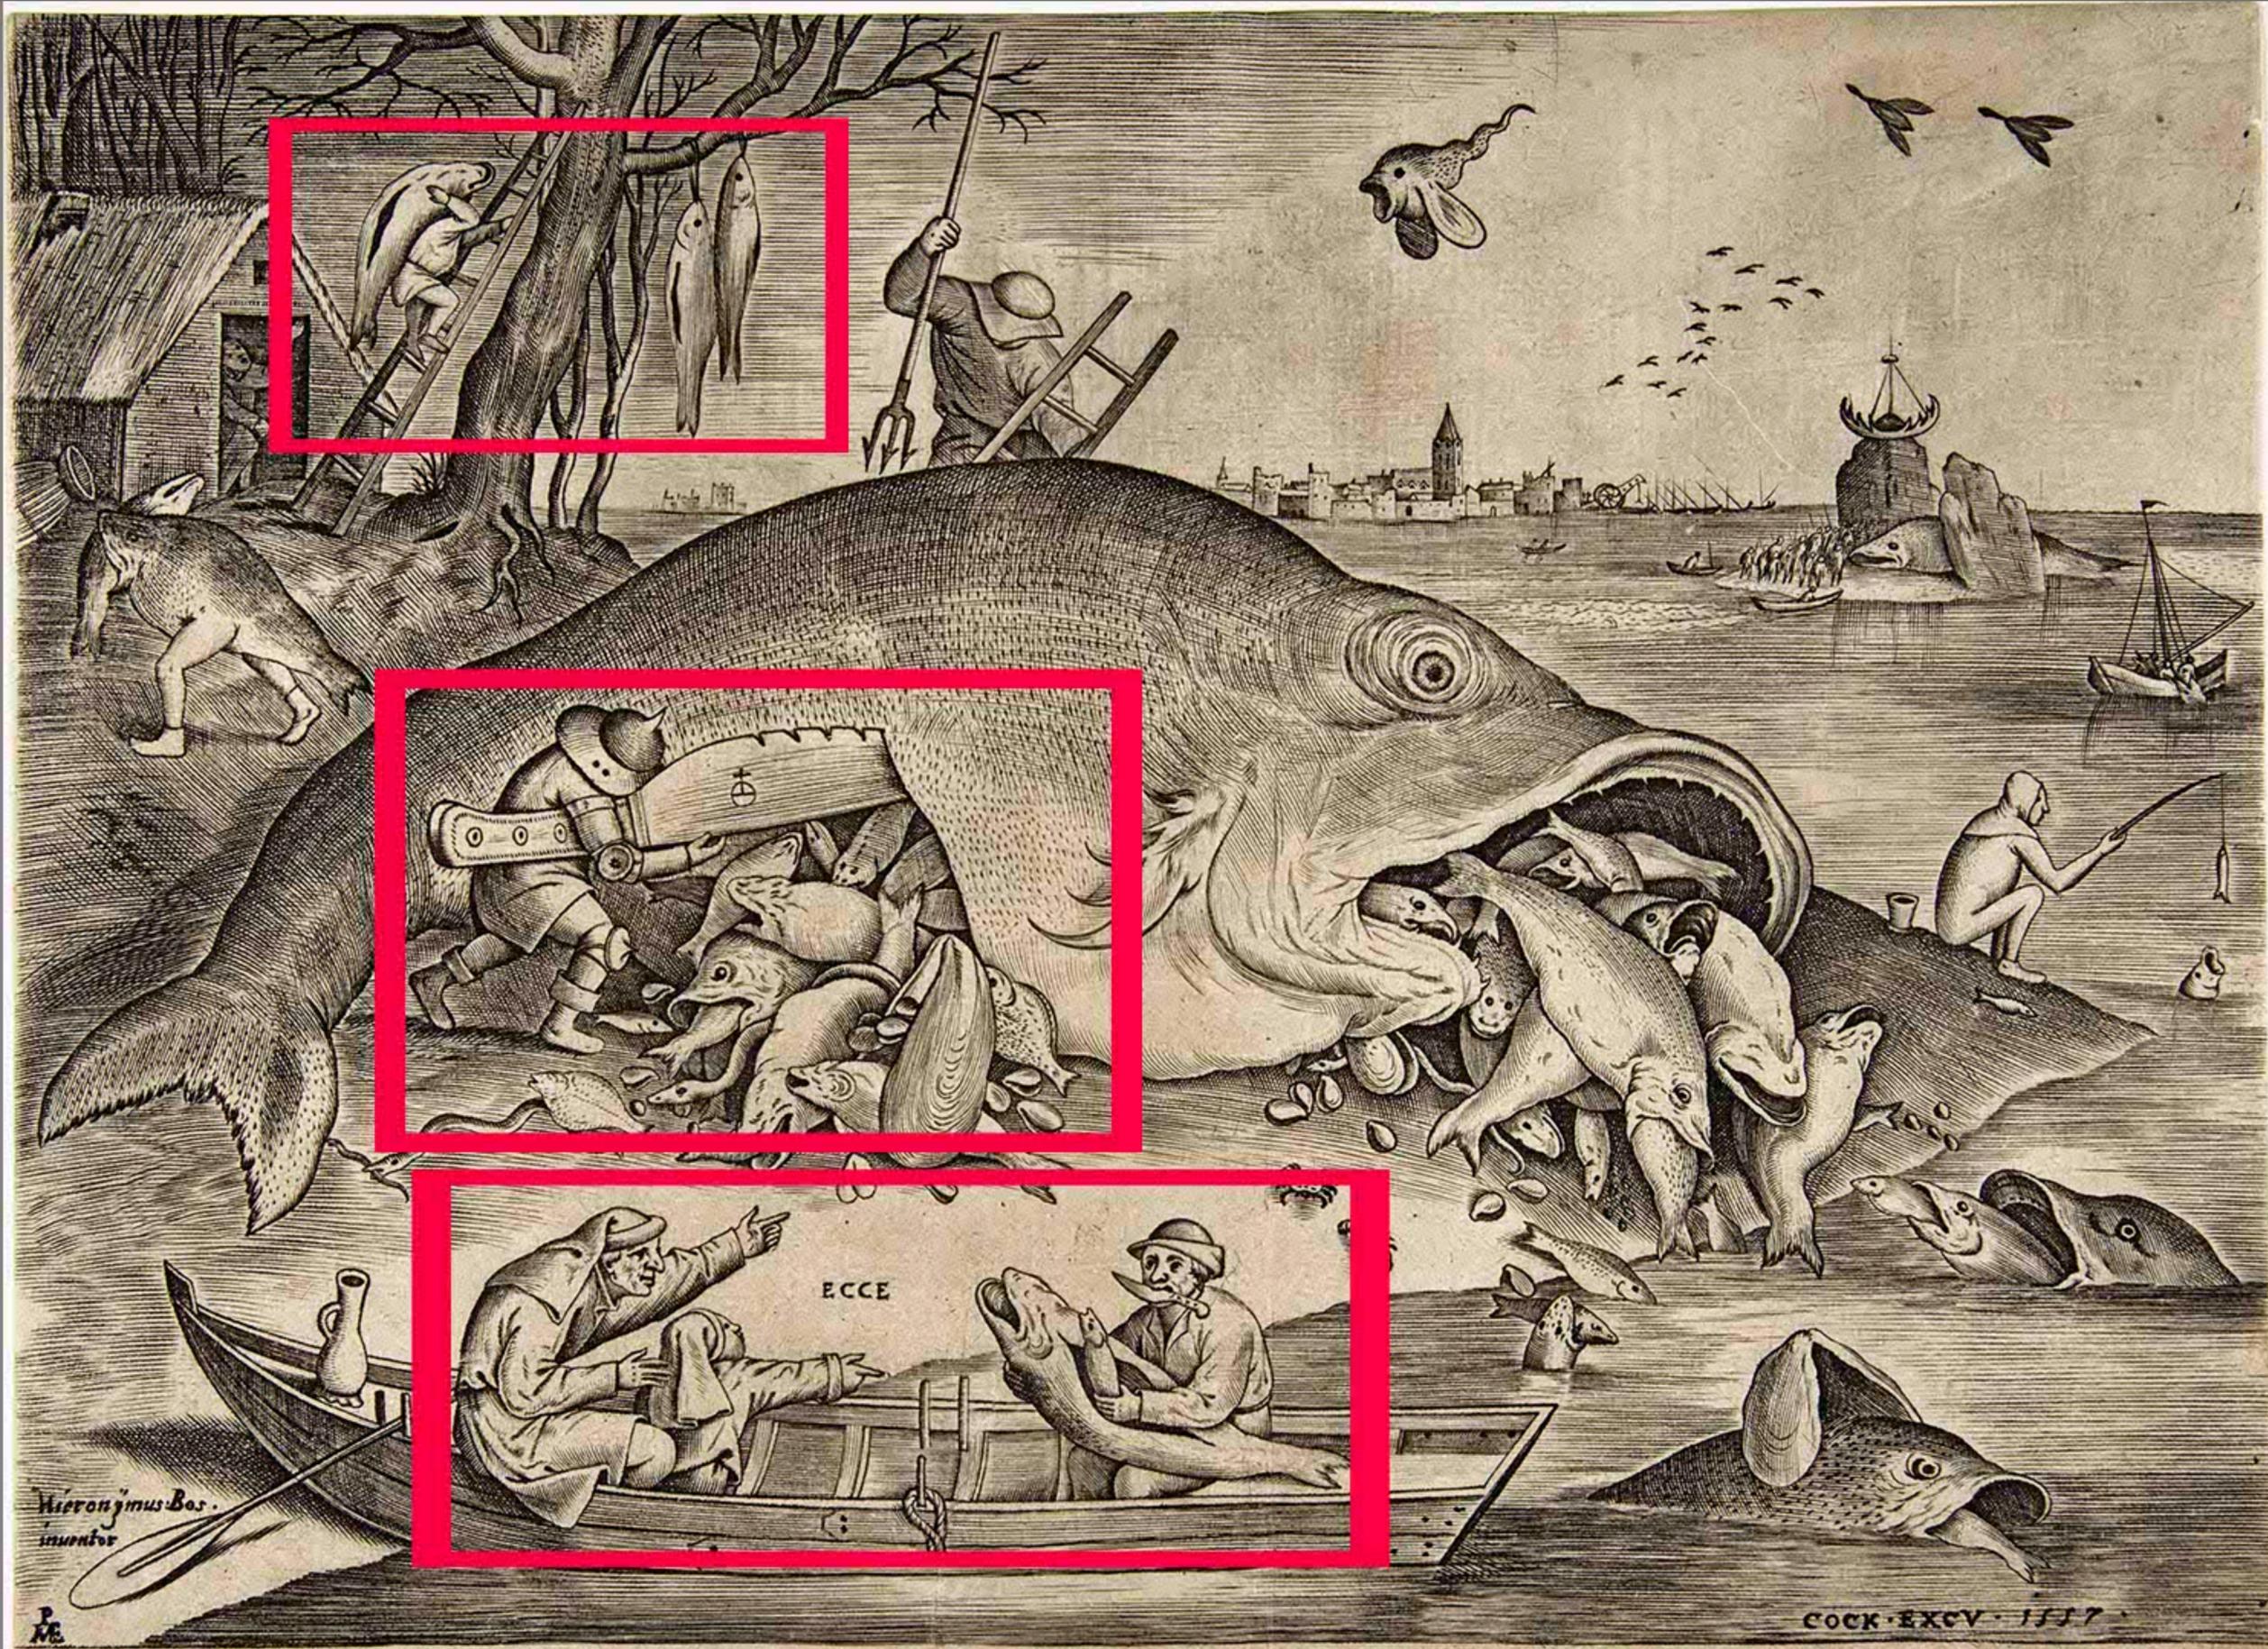

ECCE

Hieronymus Bosch.
inuentor

P.
R.

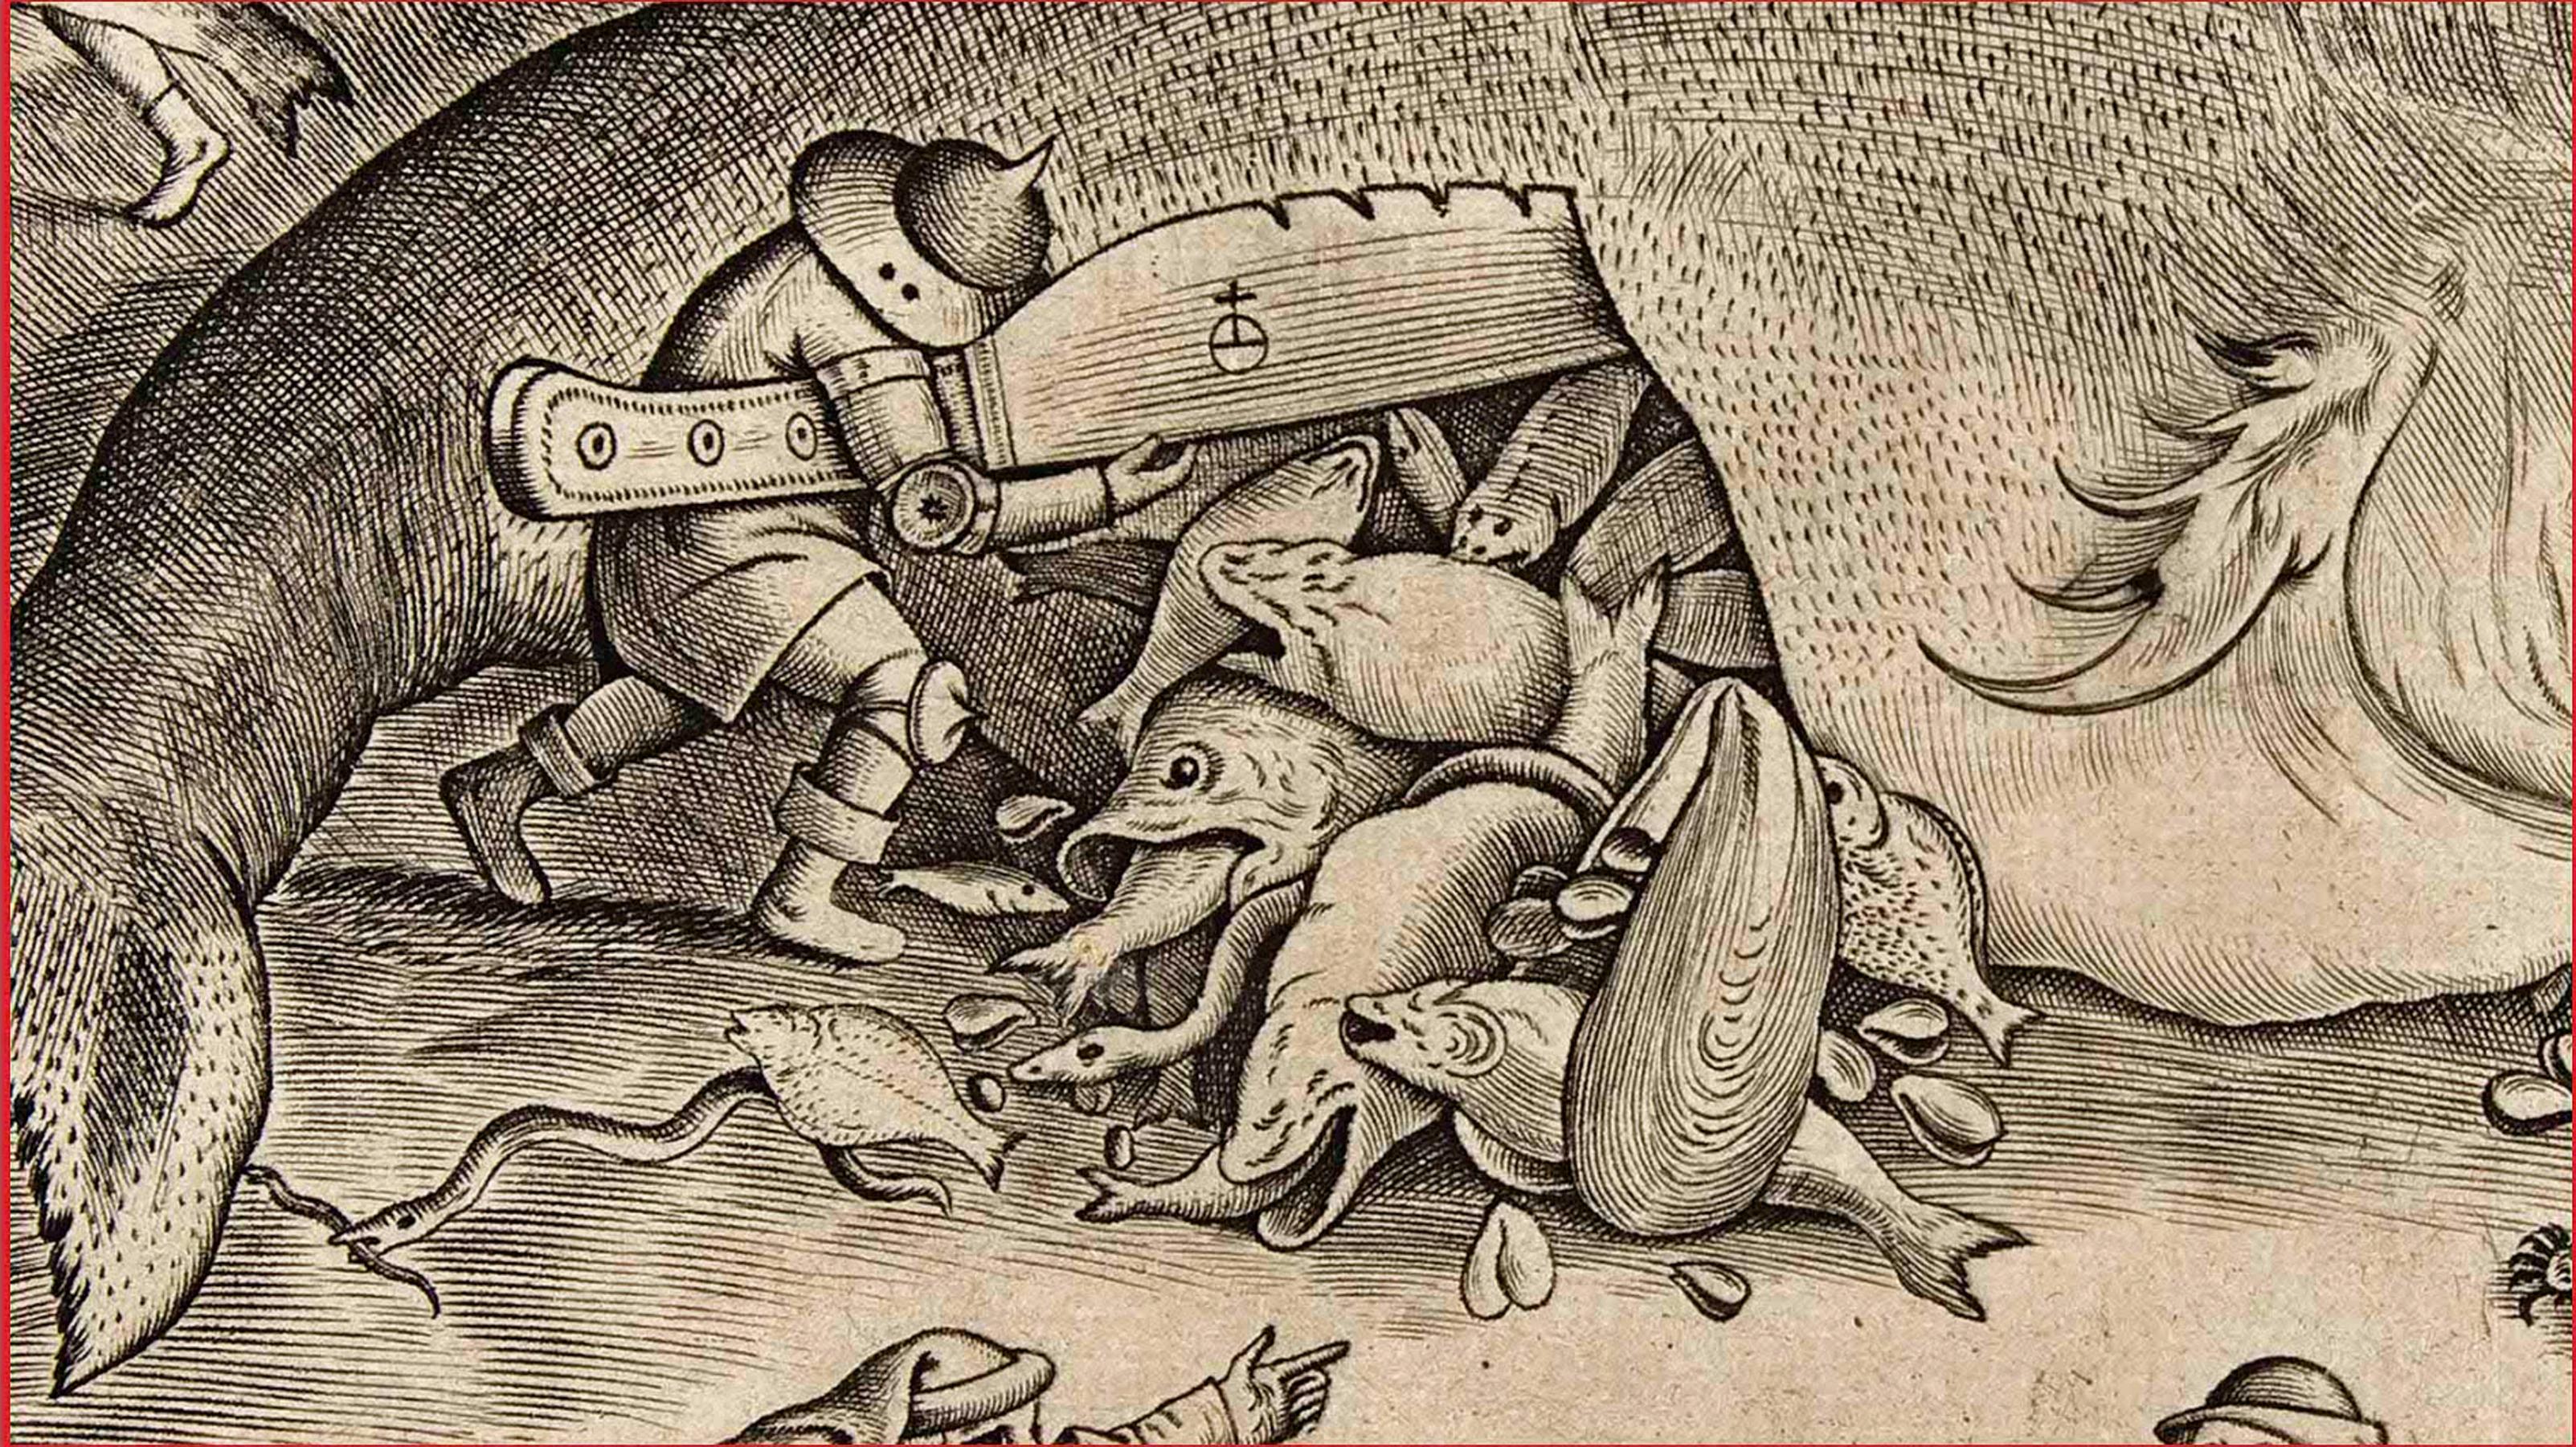

COCK · EXCV · 1517

Hieronymus Bosch.
inuente

COCK. EXCV. 1517

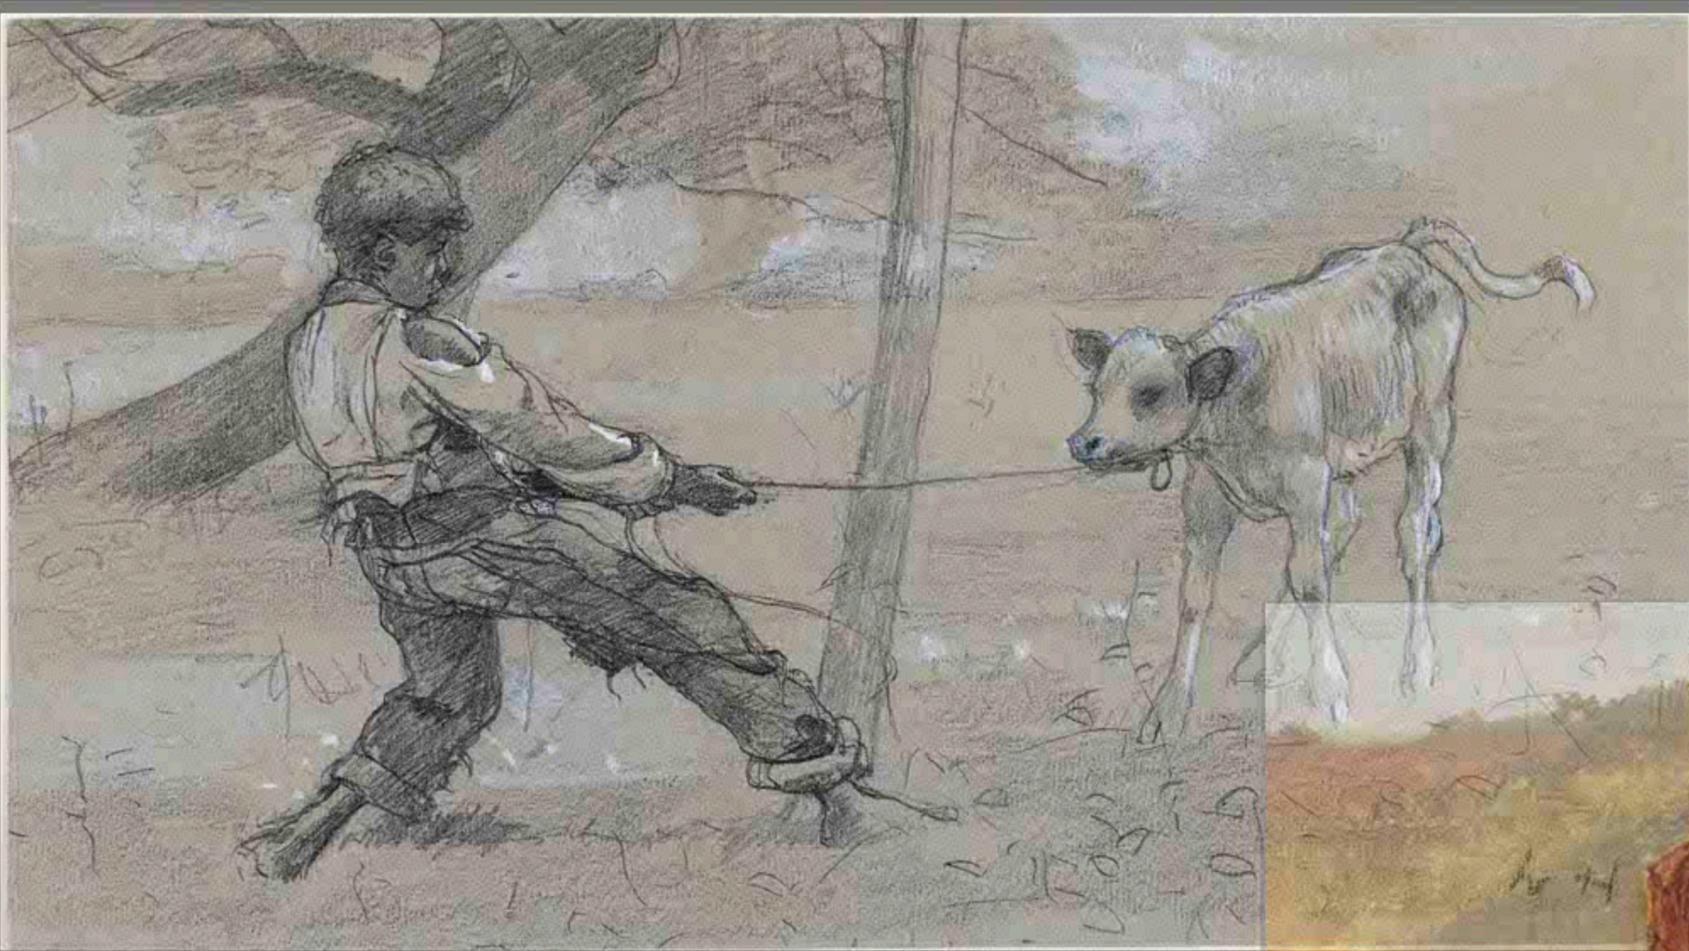

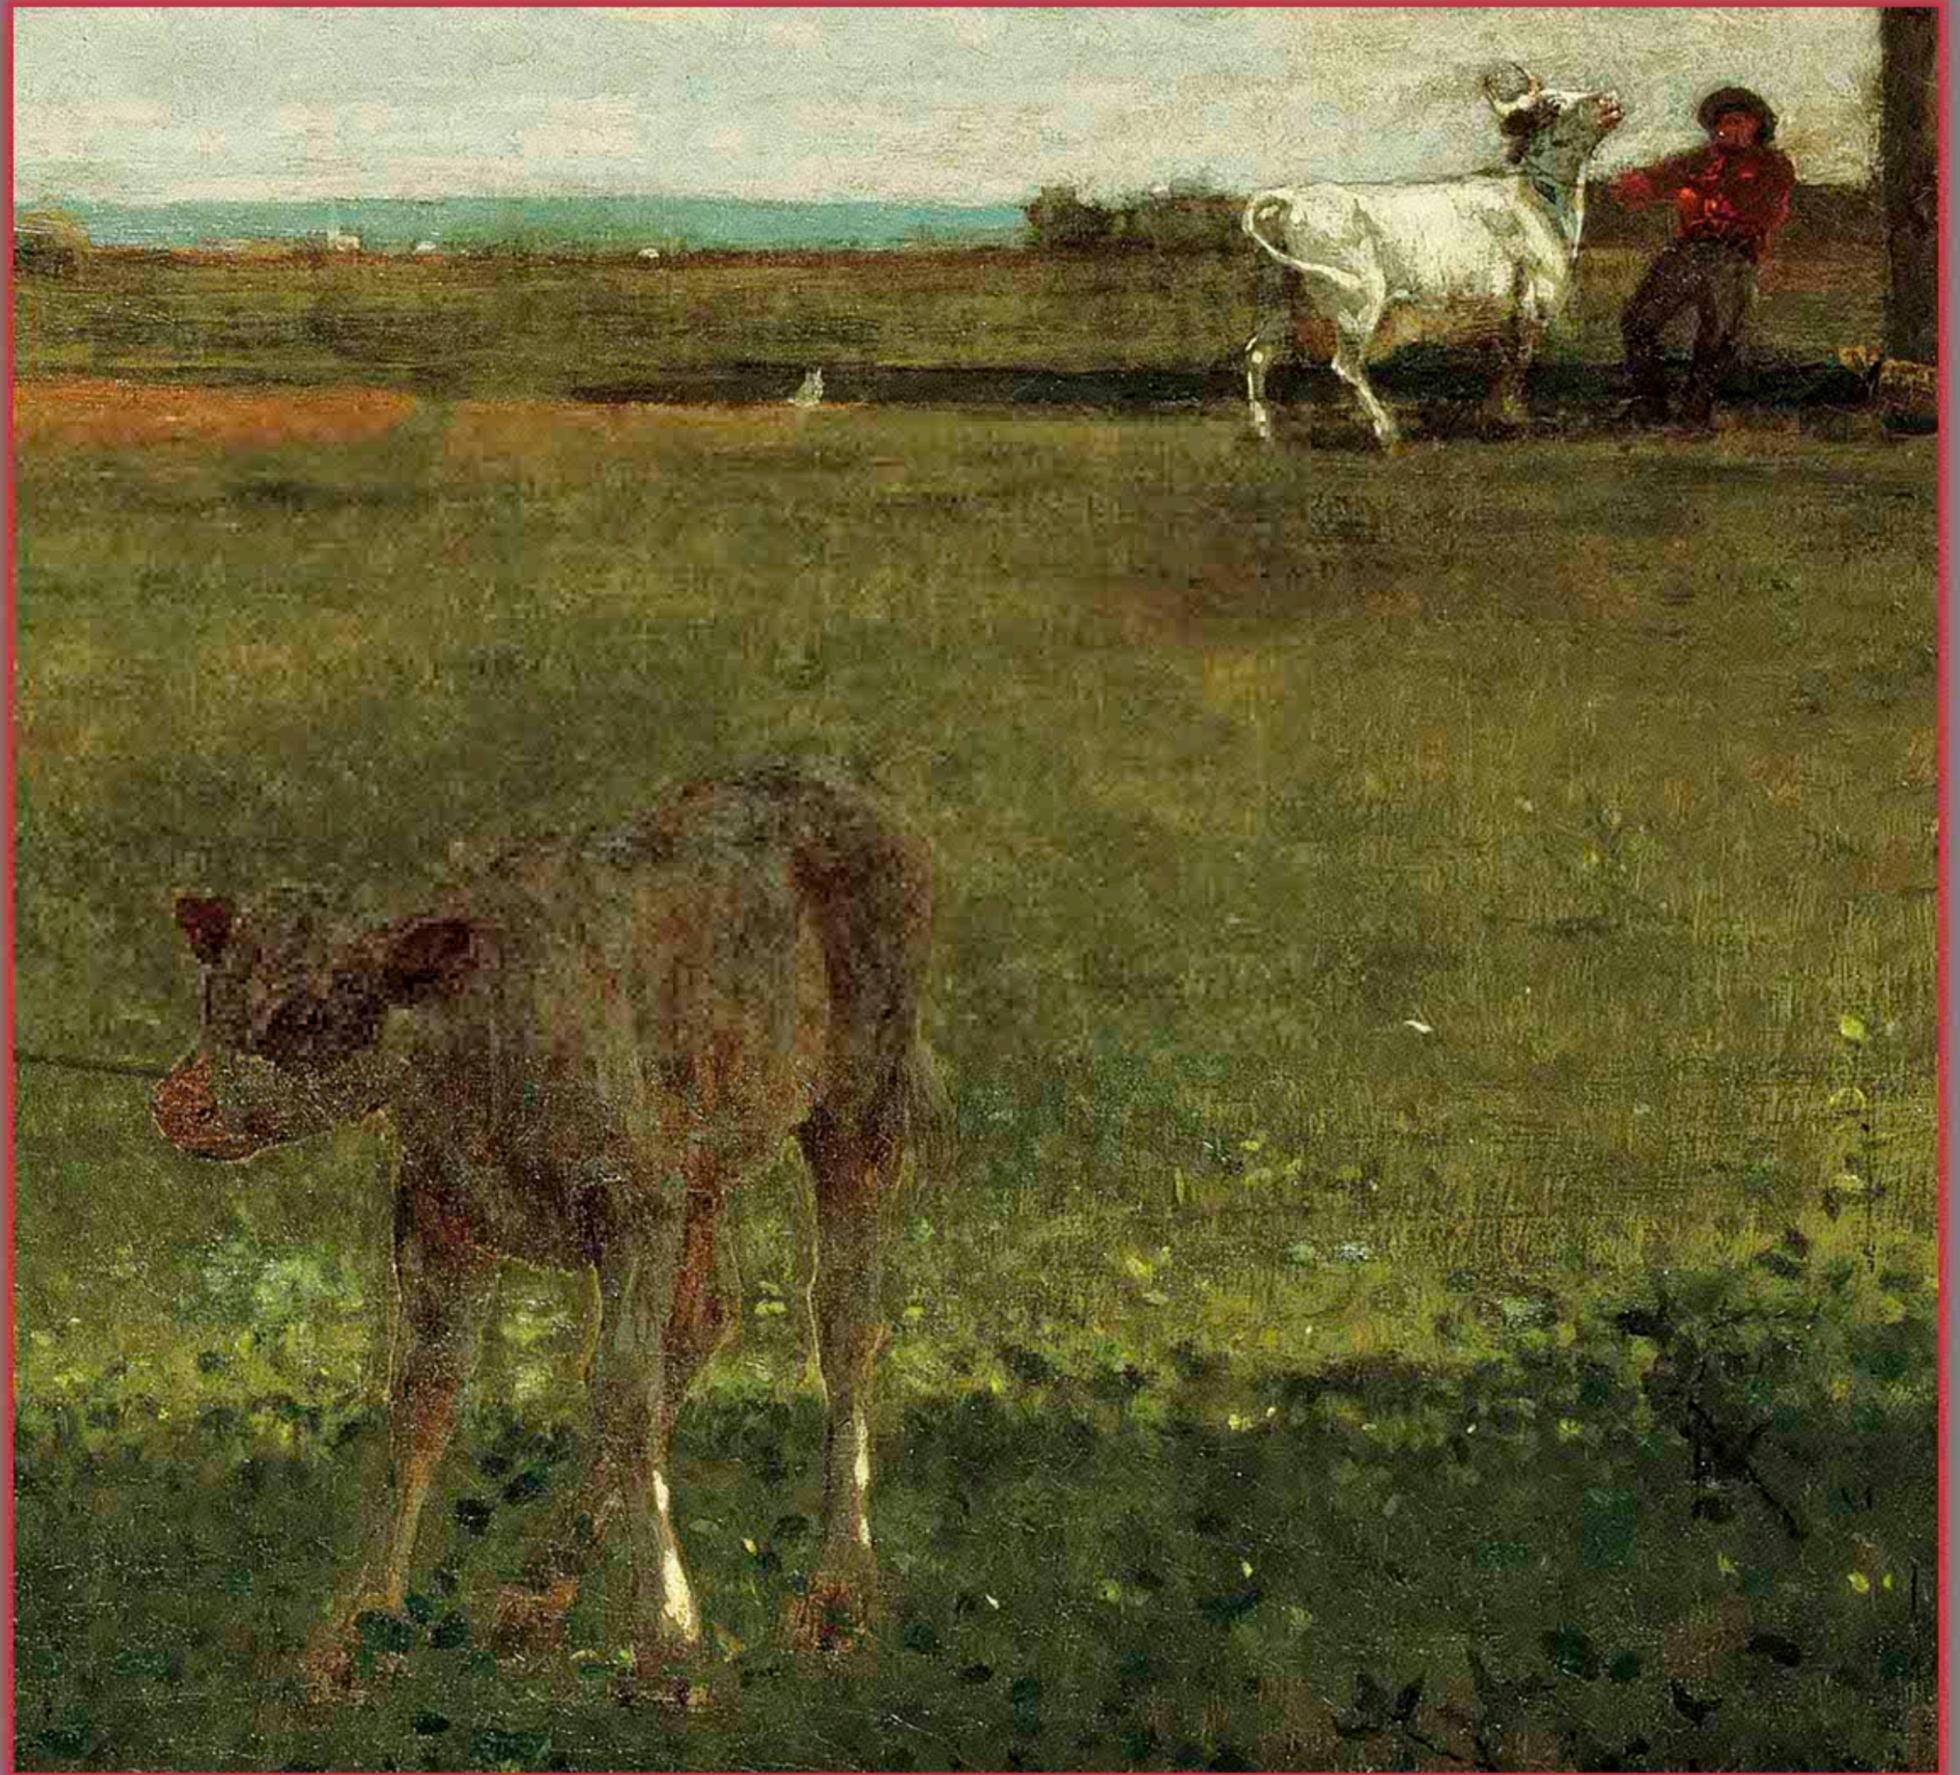

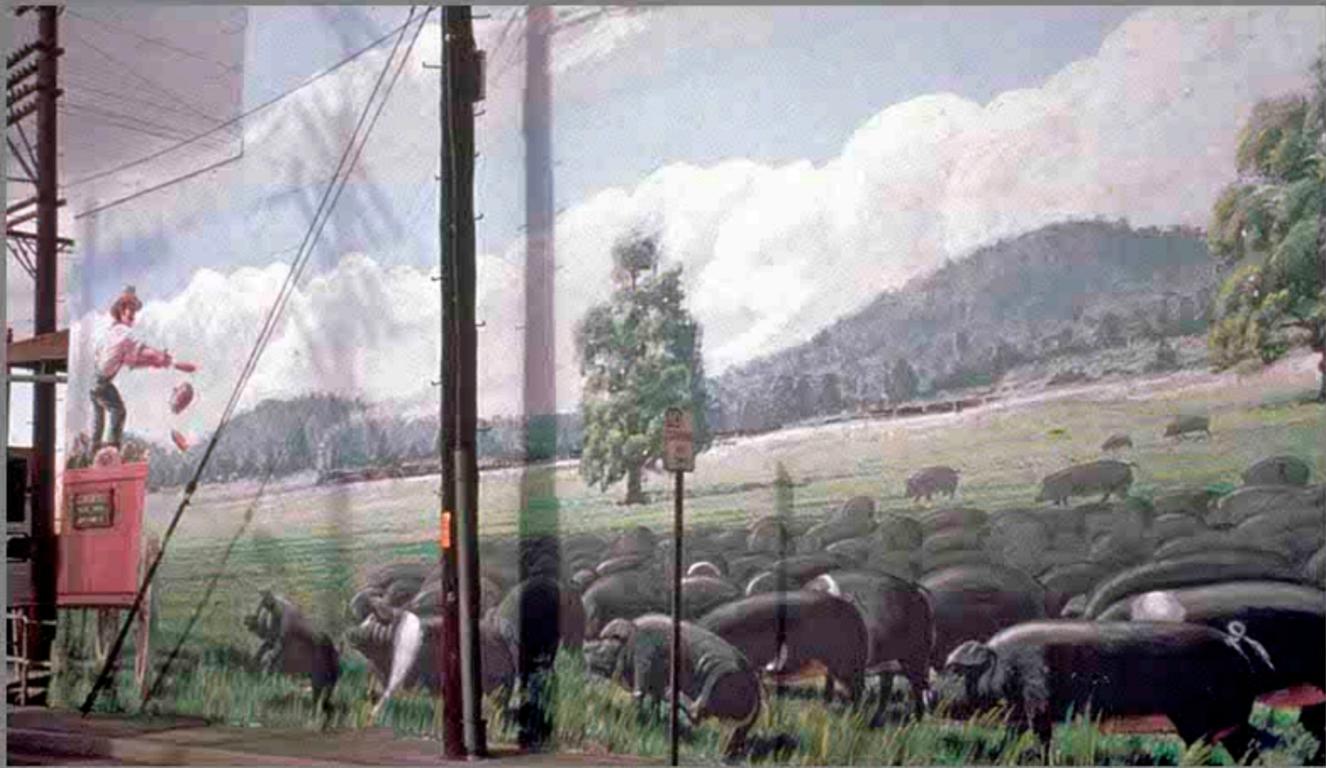

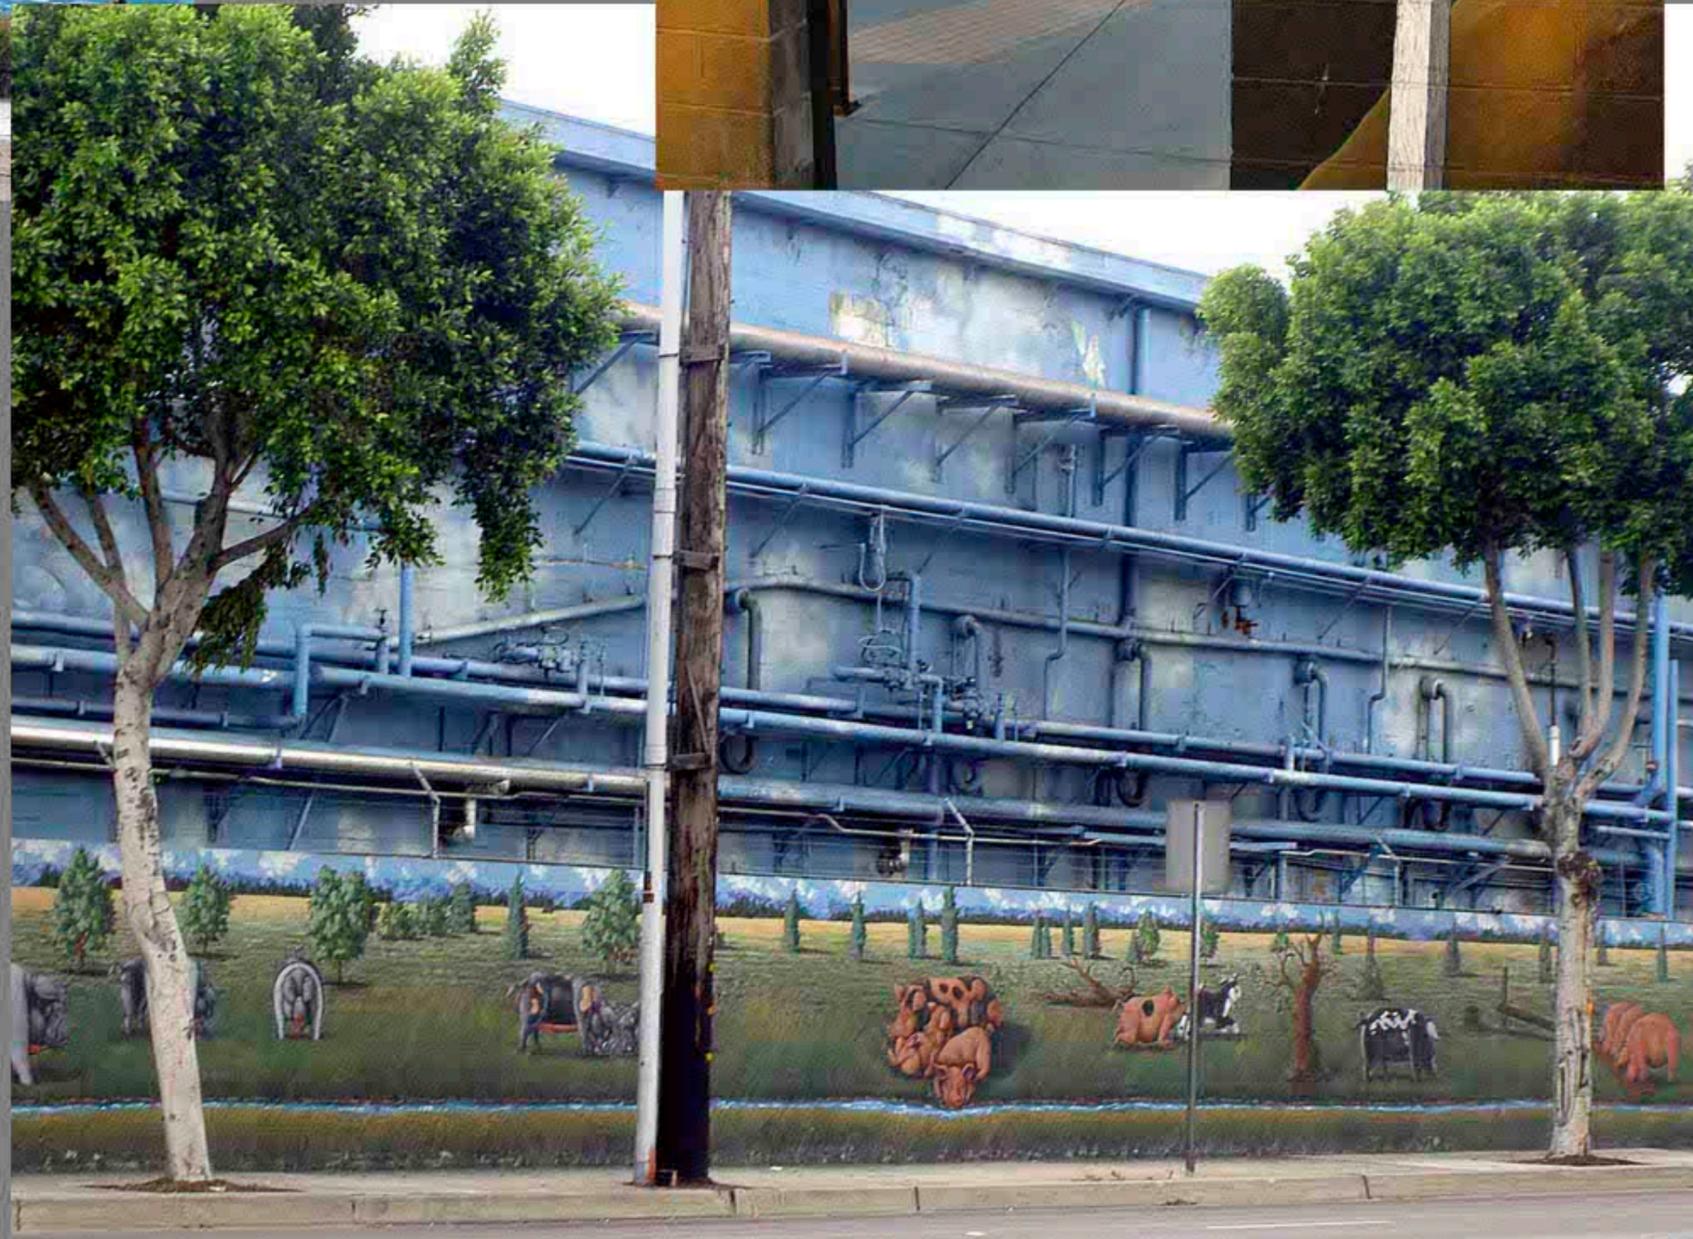

FARMER JOHN

McDoom

FARMER JOHN

FARMER JOHN

3

4

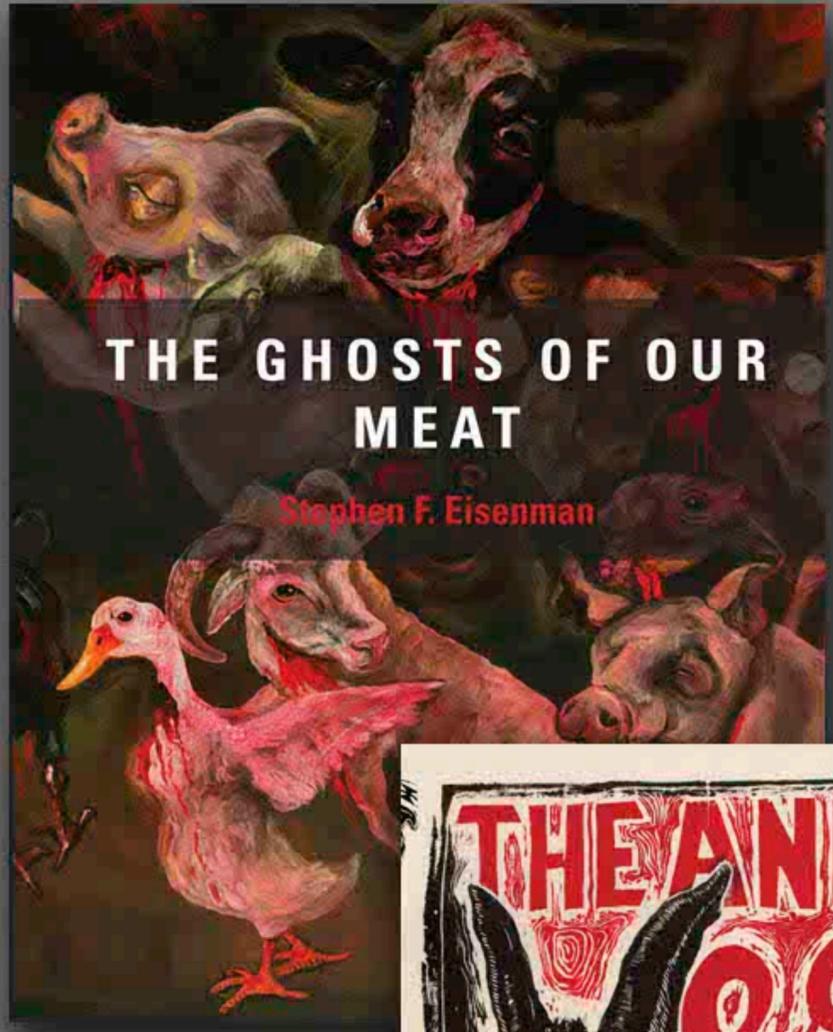

5

SELECTED PORK PRODUCTS

THE PIG'S GOVERNMENT SETS APPROVED COMPANY

FARMER JOINS EMPLOYERS ONLY

TRESPASSERS WILL BE PROSECUTED

THE GHOSTS OF OUR MEAT

Stephen F. Eisenman

CROUEL

Sue Coe

PORKOPOLIS

THE ANIMALS' Gain MANIFESTO

SUE COE

DEAD MEAT

Sue Coe

With an essay by Alexander Cockburn

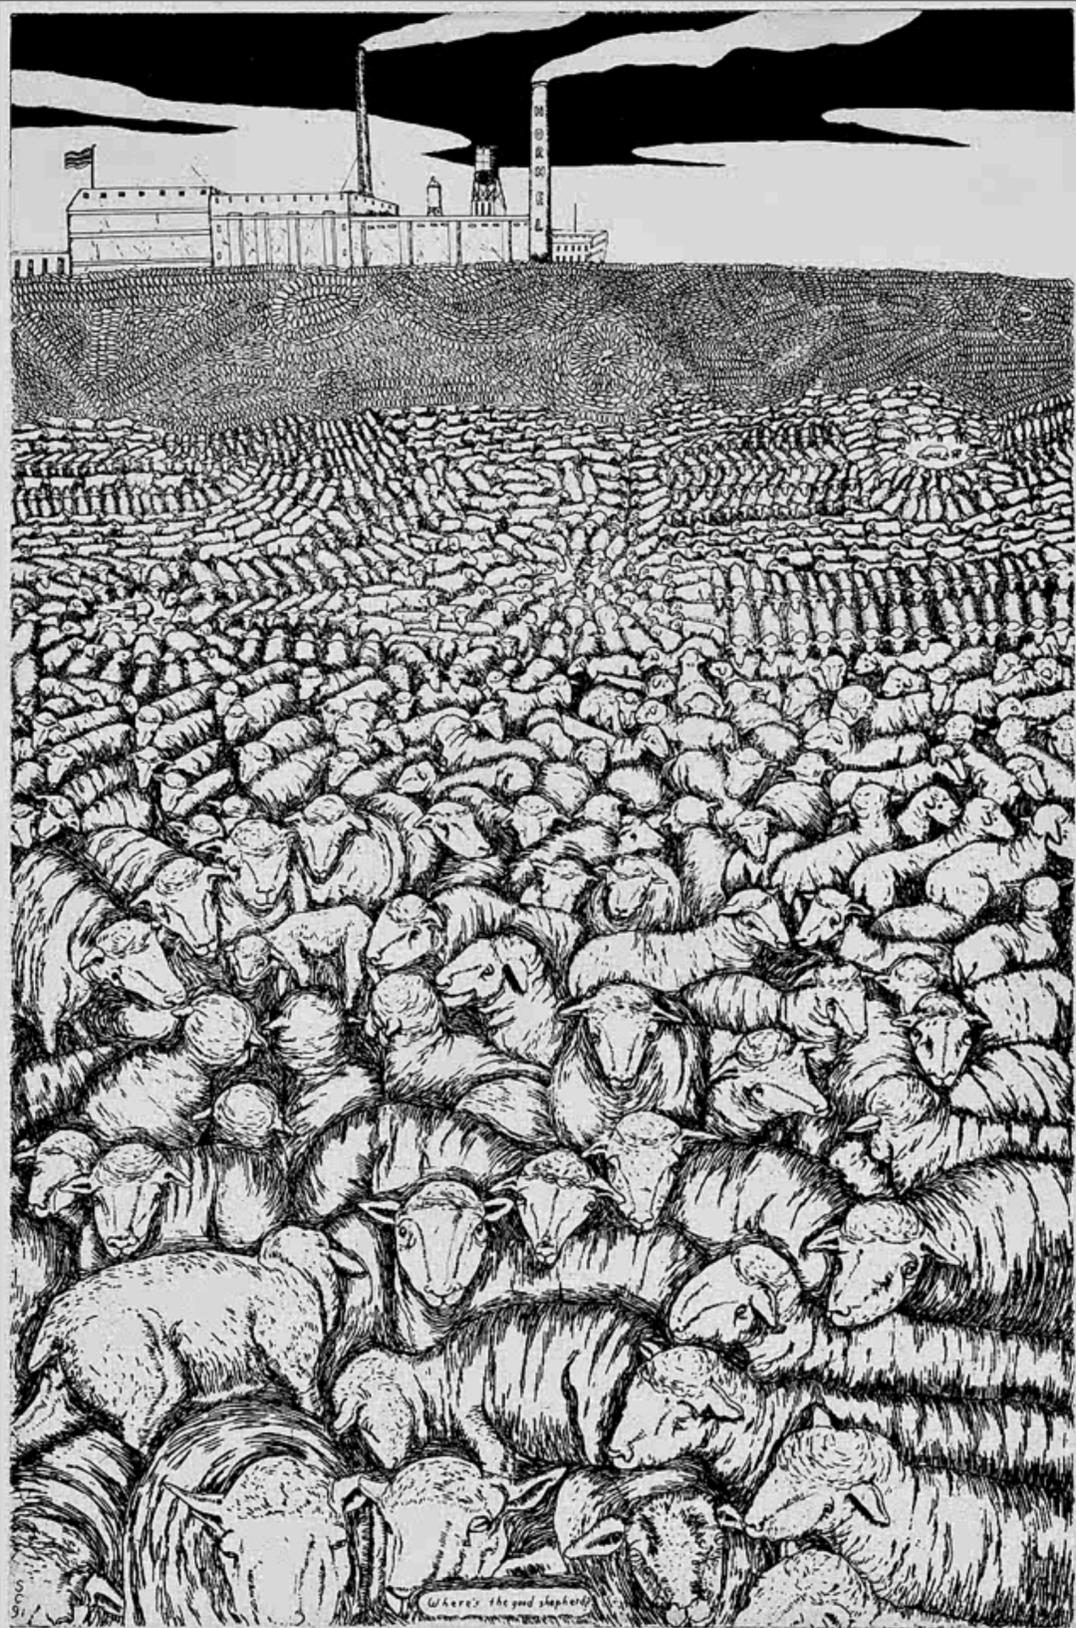

Alexander Cockburn

modern man followed by the ghosts of his meat.....

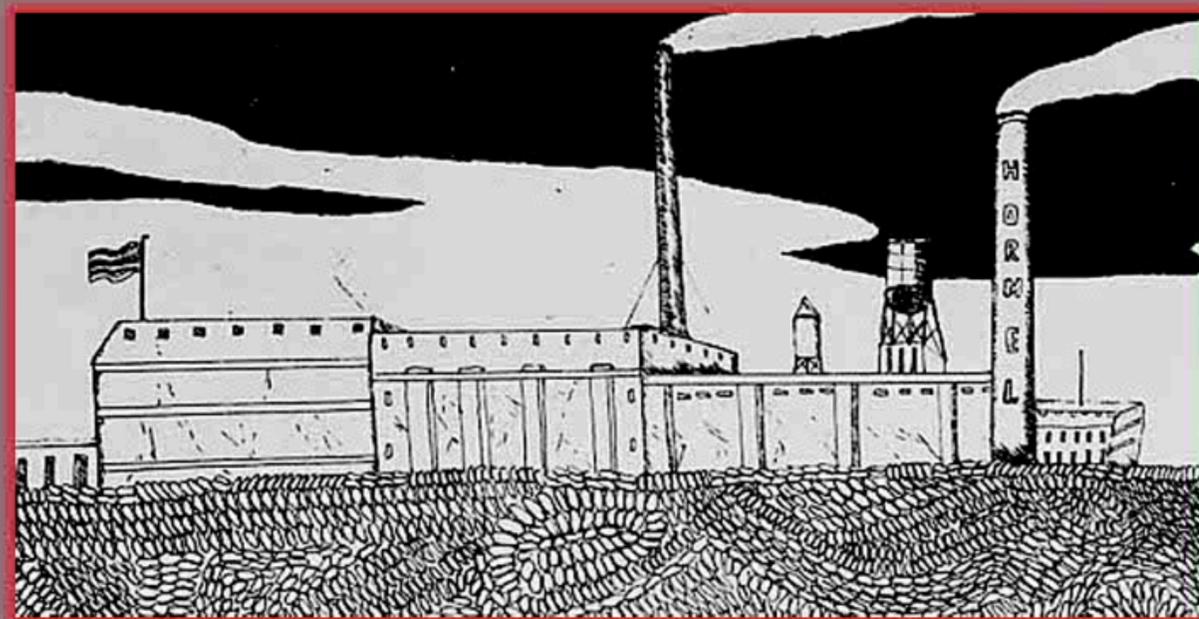

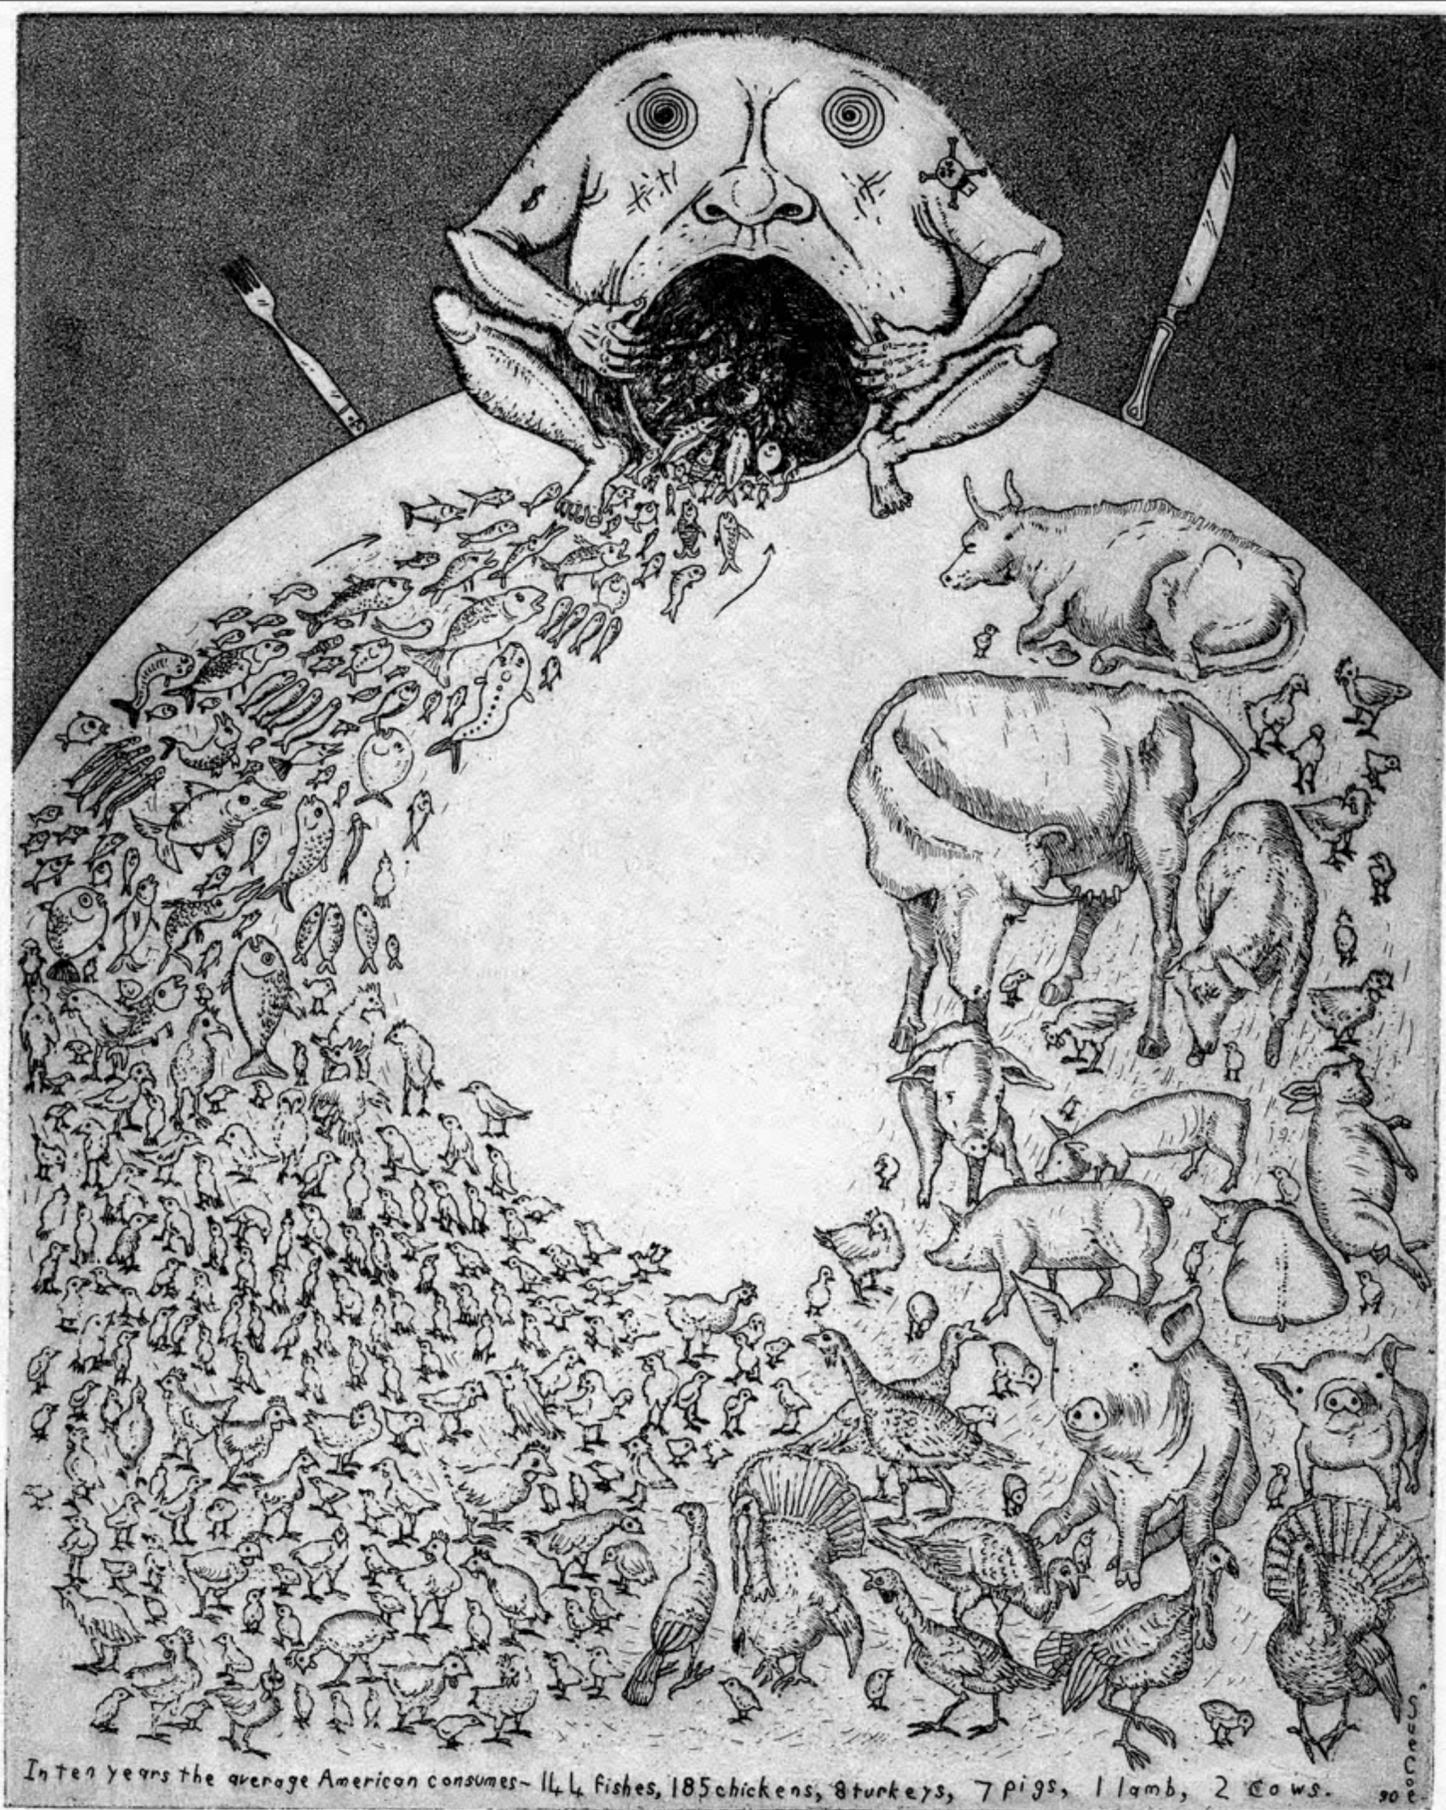

Where's the good shepherd?

25

See Col 91

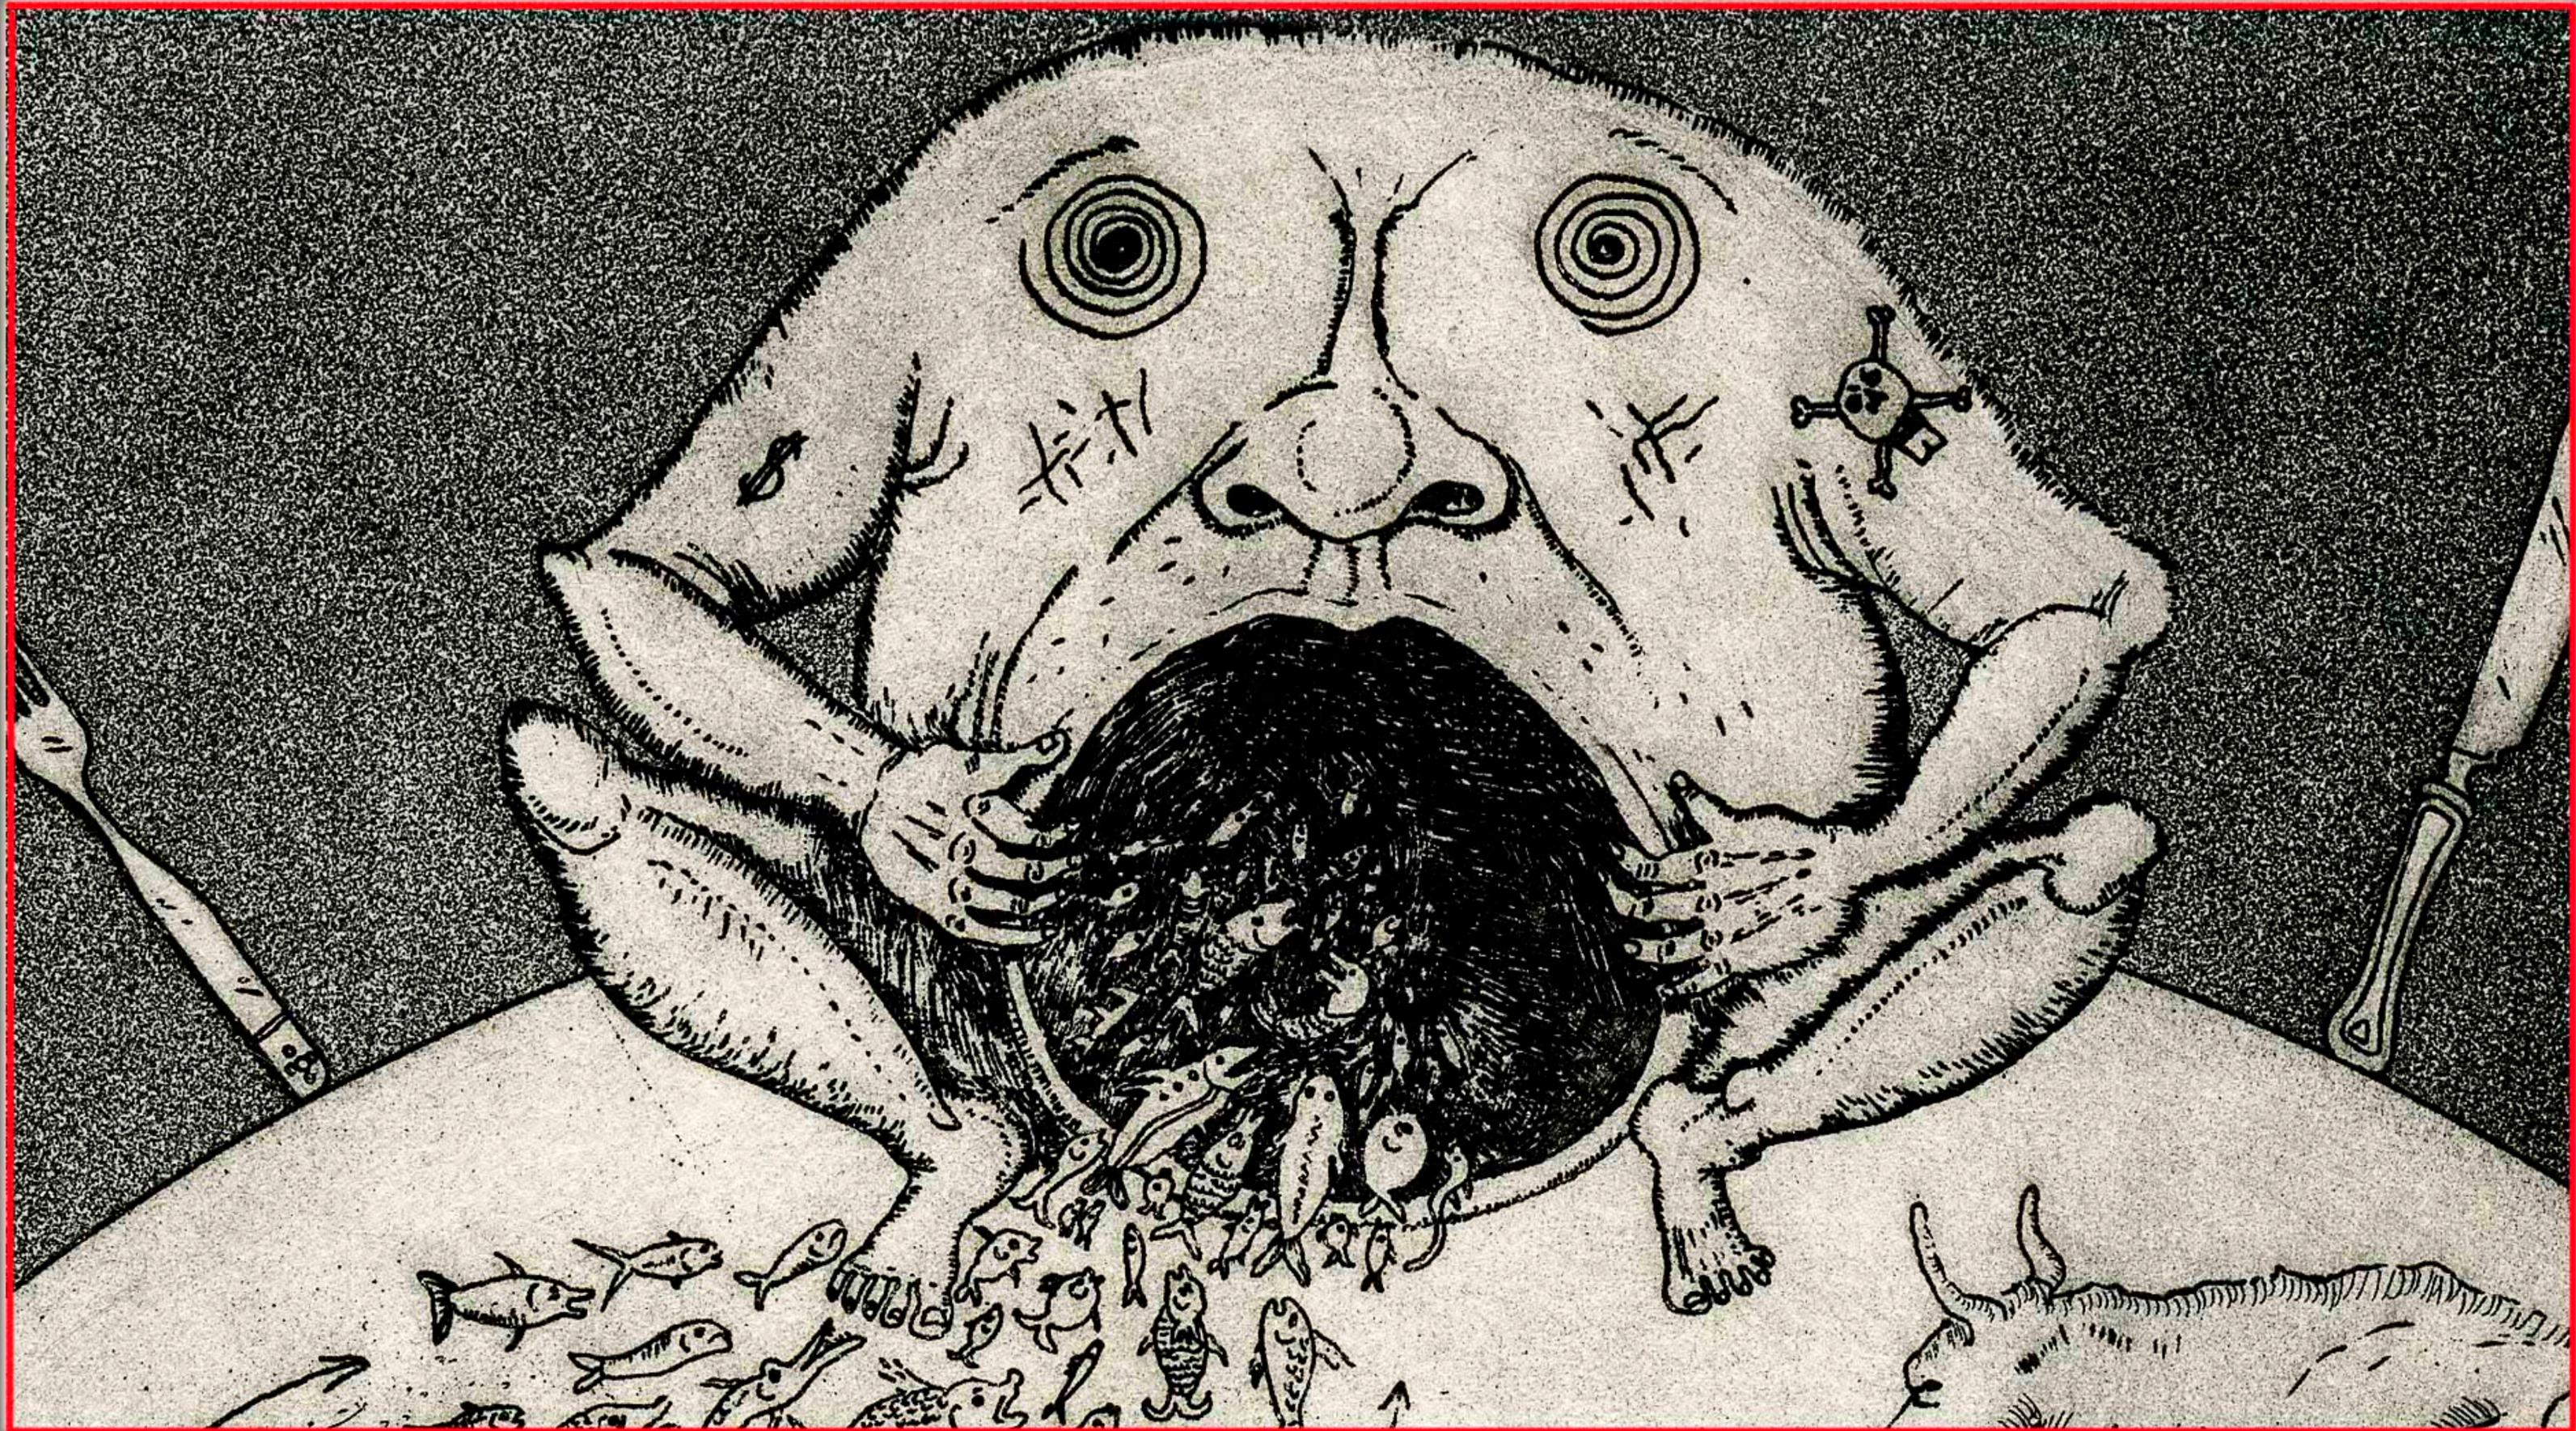

In ten years the average American consumes—144 fishes, 185 chickens, 8 turkeys, 7 pigs, 1 lamb, 2 cows. 50 C

In ten years the average American consumes -

144 fishes, 185 chickens, 8 turkeys,

7 pigs, 1 lamb, 2 cows. 90¢

Vegan Vegetarianism in ART

Vegan Vegetarianism in ART
(as well as Meat in Art)

by Mark Mathew Braunstein

www.MarkBraunstein.Org/veg-in-art

www.MarkBraunstein.Org/veg-in-art

for PDF of this slideshow

&

list of artworks, including:
artist, title, date, collection